Target of recall move

Recall Move Started Against Supervisor Blair

A recall movement aimed at unseating County Supervisor J. Walter Blair of Mill Valley was started last night by a group of citizens of Blair's supervisorial district.

The "Recall Blair Committee" was formed by 12 people meeting in Mill Valley at the home of Hugh Rodman at 129 Oakdale Avenue, Mill Valley.

The committee is drawing up a statement outlining its reasons for advocating recall of the Southern Marin supervisor, said Franklin McClain of 2 Shell Court, Mill Valley, who was named temporary chairman. The statement will be released sometime this week, he said, and circulation of recall petitions will begin at once.

The committee will also propose a candidate to replace Blair as supervisor, McClain said.

To force a recall election, the petitions would require about 2,500 valid signatures of registered voters in Blair's district, which includes the Mill Valley and Sausalito areas, the Tiburon Peninsula and the southern portion of the West

Marin coast. This would represent 20 per cent of those voting in the district at the last supervisorial election. If a recall election were held, it would be in Blair's Third District only, not countywide.

Committee members cited Blair's votes to stop work on the civic center, remove the county administrator, and refuse an offer of rent-free quarters for the administrator after the ouster was stymied by a referendum petition, as among reasons for advocating his recall. They cited also his attempt to instigate a taxpayers' revolt against county property assessments in his district, and what they said was failure to make good on campaign promises of economy, as evidenced by the fact an increase in the county tax rate appears inevitable for the first time since 1956 — this in spite of the increased assessed valuation, part of which Blair attempted to cancel out by encouraging taxpayers protests.

Committee members, besides McClain and Rodman, are: Jan P. Dyk, Lawrence Livingston Jr. and Mrs. Helen Kerr of Sausalito; Leslie Hood and Stephen Kramer of Mill Valley; Stephen Kaufman of Strawberry; Harold Stockstad of Tamalpais Valley; Milen Dempster of Almonte and Thomas Stanton Jr. and Dr. Bruce Merrill of Belvedere.

"Although 2,500 signatures are required for the election, we expect to be able to get at least 6,000 signatures," McClain said.

McClain indicated the committee expects to get the required number of signatures within 30 days "although the law allows six months."

"We hope to have the election before Christmas," he said. Pressure has been put on civic leaders for the recall for the past several months, Mrs. Kerr said.

"While we were passing petitions to save the administrator's office, people stated that they wished that the petitions were for Blair's recall," she reported.

The committee emphasized that it is not the Marin Council See BLAIR, page 4

OFFICE BY-PASSED

District Attorney Lashes Handling Of Fortner Case

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety voiced irritation and concern today over the fact that his office had been by-passed in recent handling of 17-year-old Clifford Fortner, killer of 12-year-old Lorna Lax.

"I was surprised, to say the least, to learn that Fortner appeared before the juvenile court in San Rafael on July 7," said Garety. "In the past our office had been notified of such appearances but I had understood that the next date was to be July 21."

"I hope that in future we may be notified so that we can urge that wherever Fortner is placed, it will be in such a setting that he will not be a menace to society. The rehabilitation of Mr. Fortner may be important but the protection of the community is important also."

Garety said he was concerned over rumors that placement in a foster home might be considered. Certainly I would urge against that. Society has a valid interest in keeping him in custody."

Probation Officer Walter Busher was off on a pack trip in the mountains today and would not be back until tomorrow, his office said.

It was confirmed that young Fortner was returned to juvenile hall June 21 from the Langley Porter Clinic which had completed 14 months of psychiatric care and said it could do nothing more for him.

His appearance before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. July 7 was because the judge was expected to be off on vacation July 21, according to Busher's office.

The whole procedure was routine pending specific plans for the youth.

Effort is being made to arrange placement in some other place of confinement, not a foster home, according to the probation office.

Garety will be notified when a possible location has been found, at which time another court appearance will be arranged with the district attorney or his representative present, the probation office said.

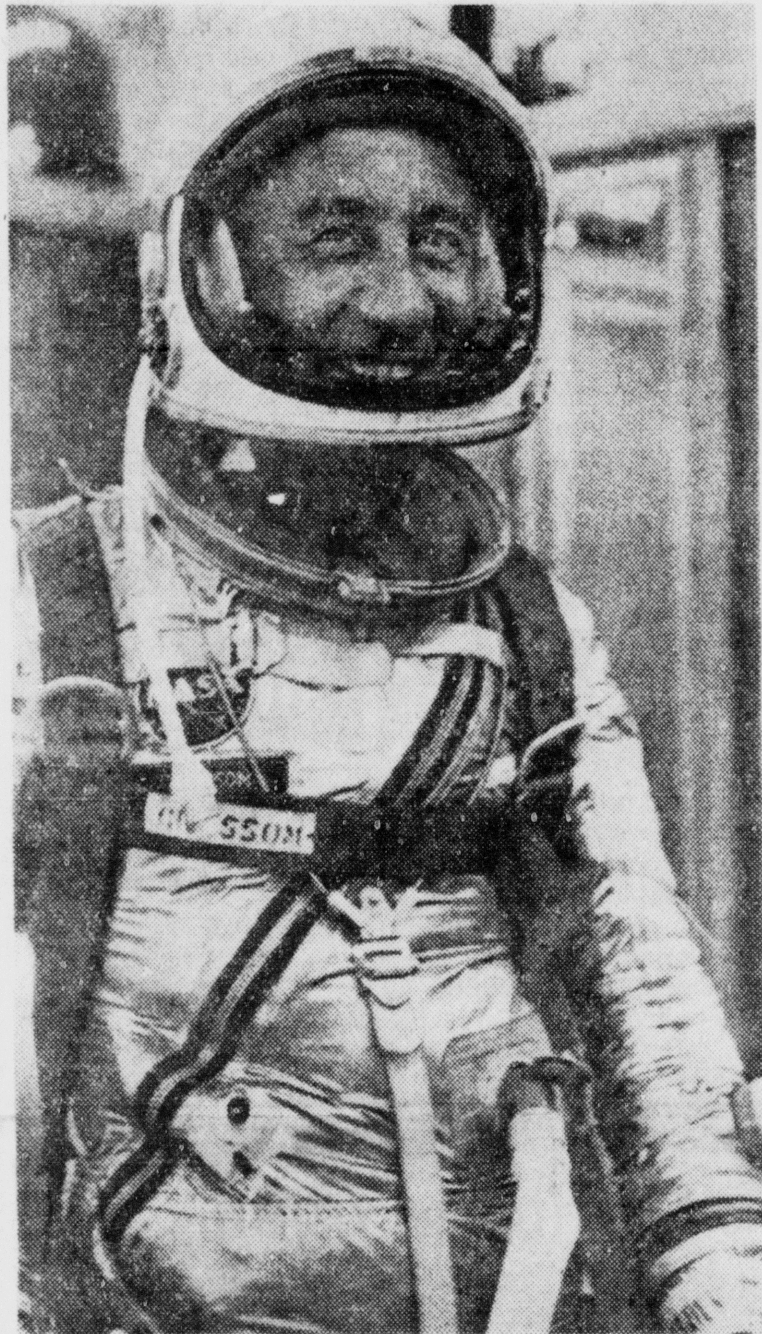

AEC Denies Report On Test Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission today denied published reports that it has planned an underground atomic explosion test in December.

It said the reports published in the San Francisco Chronicle apparently stemmed from its earlier statements that, if given authority to do so, it could be ready to make such a test in December.

An AEC spokesman said no test has been scheduled.

A spokesman for the regional AEC office in Berkeley said that while plans for the shaft and tunnel project in New Mexico call for a completion date in December, no date for the firing has been set.

HE'S READY—Astronaut Grissom prepares for space trip.

VIRGIL I. GRISSOM

Astronaut Selected For Ride Tomorrow

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Air Force Capt. Virgil I. Grissom, slender, terse-talking veteran of Korea, was picked today as the astronaut for the United States' second man-in-space effort tomorrow.

If all goes as planned, the $820-a-month test pilot known as "Gus," will be shot like a bullet 300 miles southeast over the Atlantic Ocean around 7 a.m. (EST).

On the projected flight the 35-year-old native of Mitchell, Ind., will reach a maximum altitude of 116 miles.

For all practical purposes, Grissom's suborbital flight will be identical to the rocket ride taken by Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. on May 5.

If, for any reason, the 155-pound Grissom is unable to make the flight, his place in the space capsule called "Liberty Bell 7" will be taken by Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., 39, of New Concord, Ohio.

The selection of the 5-foot-7-inch Grissom to become the third human to cross the threshold of space was announced at a news conference by Air Force Lt. Col. John A. Powers, spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Even as the selection of the tanned, fit-looking father of two sons was being announced, the long and tedious countdown preliminary to launch was under way in the air conditioned blockhouse about 150 feet from the missile launching pad.

There was no immediate word from Grissom, who is not noted for his volubility anyhow, as to how he felt on learning of his selection.

In his most recent published interview, however, Grissom, a 1950 graduate of Purdue University, was asked why he had volunteered to become an astronaut.

He replied: "My career has been in service to my country. And here is another opportunity to serve."

Grissom, who flew 100 combat missions as a fighter pilot in Korea and holds the Distinguished Flying Cross, is married to the former Betty Moore of Mitchell. They have two children, Scott, 11, and Mark, 7.

(Radio station KCBS will break in on the "Music till Dawn" program to report the flight into space tomorrow. A re-broadcast will be given at 7:35 p.m.)

Long Debate Expected

In Auto Industry Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry labor contract negotiations resumed today with prolonged debate expected on demands by the United Auto Workers Union which the industry claims are likely to cause inflation.

The union presented most of its case last week but bargainers for General Motors, Ford and Chrysler say they want the UAW to spell out its demands in specific terms before any counterproposals are made.

Western Allies Reject Nikita's Berlin Demand

Big 3 Asks E. German Free Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Britain and France today turned down Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposals aimed at forcing the Allies out of Red-encircled West Berlin.

In similar notes delivered to the Kremlin shortly after noon Moscow time, the Western Big Three called instead for free elections in East Germany as part of a basic approach to solving the entire problem of divided Germany.

The White House announced that the text of the U.S. note will be made public tomorrow.

WON'T YIELD

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger declined to give any indication of the U.S. position outlined in the note concerning Communist threats to cut off Western access to Berlin.

But it appeared certain the Allies would re-emphasize that they have no intention of yielding their rights in the former German capital 100 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

Salinger was asked if the president would deliver a radio-TV address on the Berlin situation. He said there were no plans for such a talk.

CONFERENCE OUT

Officials said the Western powers dismiss Khrushchev's call for an immediate peace conference of all nations which fought against Nazi Germany. The Allies point out that the primary responsibility under wartime agreements rests with the big four — The United States, Russia, Britain and France.

The United States and its Allies, officials added, reject categorically Khrushchev's demand that lacking a peace treaty, the Western Powers pull out of West Berlin and permit it to become a demilitarized "free city" under some form of international supervision.

In addition, they make it clear that the Western powers do not recognize Russia's right to make a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

DISARM PARLEY OPENS ON A CHILLY NOTE

MOSCOW (UPI) — United States and Soviet disarmament experts today opened a second round of talks. Observers described the atmosphere as distinctly chilly.

John McCloy, special disarmament adviser to President John F. Kennedy, met with Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin at Sprindovka Palace to resume their talks which began last month in Washington.

Prospects of any agreement here appeared dimmed by the sharpening of the Berlin crisis and other international developments.

The talks resumed under a Soviet warning that world disarmament hopes hung in the balance.

House Group Votes Tax Cut For Business

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Immediate tax cuts for business totaling more than 1.2 billion dollars a year won approval today of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The committee approved a sharply revised version of President John F. Kennedy's plan to provide tax incentives for business to spur economic growth.

The committee's plan would give business firms and self-employed persons a tax cut equal to eight per cent of the amount spent this year—and in future years—on income-producing equipment.

The legislation is part of an administration-backed tax revision package which the committee plans to send to the House floor next month. There is doubt that the Senate will finish action on the legislation this year.

The administration had proposed tax cuts totaling 1.7 billion dollars for business. The committee trimmed this in view of its refusal to provide all of the offsetting new tax revenue the administration recommended.

So far the committee has approved tax-boosting provisions that will yield a little more than $600 or $700 million in new revenue.

SHE DIDN'T DROWN

Divorcee's Death In Tub A Mystery

Water dripping through the ceiling of a Fairfax second floor flat led investigators today to a perplexing mystery in the death of a 22-year-old divorcee.

The nude body of Mrs. Joan C. Zerbe, who had rented the upper floor apartment at 114 Wood Lane, Fairfax, only Saturday night, was found in the bathtub by the landlord, Mirza Mehdy, 69, last night. He became alarmed when he and his wife noticed water dripping from the ceiling.

An autopsy disclosed no water in Mrs. Zerbe's lungs. Nor was there any evidence of physical violence, nor of any normal natural cause of death, said Coroner Frank J. Keaton.

Mrs. Zerbe's boy friend, Richard Knutson, who was with her when she rented the apartment, was picked up for questioning in Daly City, where he is a musician with Dick Contino's trio at the Say When night club.

Knutson was seen leaving the Fairfax flat at 7:30 p.m. yesterday. Two hours later, the landlord saw Mrs. Zerbe.

But Daly City police held Knutson for investigation of possession of narcotics. Two small vials of what may be marijuana were found also in the Fairfax apartment, said

MONTEREY, Mexico (UPI) — Two sisters whose parents and two brothers died in an Oklahoma automobile crash last month were killed yesterday in the collapse of a ferris wheel.

They were identified as Sharon Bello, 11, and her sister, Christina, 6.

The sisters were among seven persons killed and 27 others injured when the eight-ton ferris wheel crashed in a high wind. Thirty-six persons were aboard the ride when it toppled.

The two girls were in line with Nicholas Garbza, 32, their uncle, who was also killed.

Baseball's Ty Cobb Dies

ATLANTA (UPI) — Ty Cobb, one of the all-time greats of baseball, died today at Emory University Hospital.

Cobb, born Tyrus Raymond Cobb, was 74. He died of the combined effects of heart, arthritic and diabetic ailments.

His personal physician, Dr. R. Hugh Wood, said the Hall of Fame great had been suffering from "general deterioration of health." He had been admitted to the hospital for checkups four times since last December.

Cobb played with Detroit all but two of his 24 years in the majors. In the fading years of his career, he was with the old Philadelphia Athletics.

Cobb led the American League in batting a record 12 years — nine of those years successively. Except for his rookie year, Cobb never batted under .300. For three seasons he hit the ball at a .400 clip. His lifetime average figures out to .367.

Cobb also was a fast and crafty base runner and stole 892 bases in his career — 96 bases in one season. He led the

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Kings River Fires

FRESNO (AP) — Forest fires cracked through high quality timber stands today on both sides of the North Fork of the Kings River in the Sierra National Forest some 30 miles east of here.

The single blaze that broke out Friday south of the river on steep Rogers Ridge leaped the water yesterday and became two fires, racing north-eastward on parallel courses into valuable commercial timber.

Together the fires had burned across 13,000 acres of brush and forest by nightfall. There was no immediate prospect of control.

Viet Nam Dead

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government troops driving into a rebel stronghold southwest of Saigon killed an estimated 200 Viet Cong Communists over the weekend in one of the bloodiest battles of the seven-year guerrilla war.

Military authorities said 187 Viet Cong dead were counted after the three-hour pitched battle in the swampy Plaine des Jones—Plain of Reeds—about 60 miles from the capital.

They added, however, that several hundred Reds fled toward the Cambodian border.

Explosion Kills One

FORT CARSON, Colo. (UPI) — A natural gas explosion killed one person, injured 21 others, and set fire to four apartments occupied by non-commissioned officers' families on this Army post yesterday.

Kidney Twins 'Fine'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Identical twins who underwent the West Coast's fourth kidney transplantation three days ago were reported "making good progress" today at UCLA Medical Center.

The patients are 41-year-old twins Robert and William Nelson of Garden Grove.

During the rare, nine-hour operation Saturday, the first of its kind in Southern California, a healthy kidney was removed from Robert and transplanted to William.

Adenauer Campaign

DORTMUND, Germany (UPI) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called on the West German people last night to let him lead them again through the days of crisis that lie ahead.

The 85-year-old Christian Democratic leader kicked off his campaign for re-election to a fourth term at a rally for 20,000 people.

He appealed to the electorate to make no "political experiments" by switching to the Socialist opposition this year while the Soviets are building new pressure over Berlin and divided Germany.

Adenauer has a vigorous campaign ahead of him. The dynamic mayor of West Berlin, Willy Brandt, is running against him, but Adenauer showed no signs of flinching from the task despite his age.

Eaton's Stand

BERLIN (UPI) — Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton was quoted by the East German Communists yesterday as supporting U.S. recognition of communist East Germany.

The official communist newspaper Neues Deutschland printed on its front page what it said was a statement sent by Eaton to the newspaper. Eaton is a friend of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Reunion With Ike

WATERSMEET, Mich. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower began a few weeks of fishing and reunion with his three brothers today at a lodge in the northern Upper Peninsula.

The general flew into nearby Land O'Lakes, Wis., yesterday. About 100 persons cheered as he stepped from the private plane. He waved and smiled as the crowd took pictures.

Eisenhower was accompanied by his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore.

Milton said two other brothers, Edgar of Tacoma, Wash., and Earl of La Grange, Ill., would arrive today.

No Wedding!

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Some things a girl just doesn't do, and one of them is to say she still wants to marry the man who stood her up on their scheduled wedding day.

Elizabeth Ann Crosby, 26-year-old daughter of bandleader Bob Crosby, was asked if she still planned to marry her intended, Frank Jones.

"Never," she said with some finality.

'Baseball' Hailstones

By U.P. International
A violent thunderstorm lashed Tulsa, Okla., today with gale winds and hail the size of baseballs.

A tornado whipped along the ground near Miami, Okla., yesterday and two other twisters were reported in the northeastern part of the state.

Winds at Tulsa were estimated at 55 to 75 miles an hour.

Rain, drizzle and fog dominated the weather east of the Rockies.

Spain Remembers

MADRID (UPI) — Spain today commemorated the 25th anniversary of the beginning of the bloody civil war that brought Generalissimo Francisco Franco to power.

As usual, the occasion was observed solemnly. Highlight of the commemoration was a parade of 70,000 war veterans and members of the armed forces.

In many Roman Catholic churches, masses were said for the one million Spaniards who died in the three years of fierce fighting.

Despite the lingering, bitter feelings caused by the conflict, the government observes the anniversary annually because the Franco forces consider the war was the start of a "national crusade" that saved Spain from communism.

Bowles Shift?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Undersecretary of state Chester A. Bowles was reported today to be slated for a top ambassadorial post in the first major shift among Kennedy administration officials.

It also was understood that Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, eventually will be replaced, but no immediate consideration is being given to this move.

State Department officials said they knew nothing of the reported Bowles shift. However, reliable congressional sources said the administration was moving toward such a decision.

Cameron Married?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Rod Cameron and his former mother-in-law, Dorothy Alve-Lico reportedly have been secretly wed since last year.

The Herald-Express Saturday quoted Cameron's ex-wife, actress Angela Cameron, as saying:

"It happened some time ago. I talk to my mother occasionally, but we never discuss Rod."

Cameron, 50, and Angela, 32, were divorced in 1954. Mrs. Alve-Lico, 56, won a divorce in 1957 from Portuguese diplomat Antonio Alve-Lico after testifying they had been apart 17 years.

U.S. Nazis Threaten Jewish Boy

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP) — A 13-year-old Jewish boy says he was threatened by Nazi troopers, handcuffed and quizzed about his religion while they held him captive in their headquarters in this Washington suburb.

Two troopers, members of George Lincoln Rockwell's American Nazi party, have been jailed on charges of felonious assault and are awaiting trial.

CROSSBONES

Since the troopers' arrest, the boy's parents say they have received through the mail a cloth bearing the design of a skull and crossbones. Inside the envelope containing it, one word was inscribed — "Juden" — German for Jew.

The attack, as related by the boy, Rickey Farber, occurred here a week ago Saturday night. As he and four teen-age friends walked home from a high school dance, they passed Nazi headquarters. One of them said: "Look at that big Nazi flag."

Rickey told the Washington Evening Star 10 men came running from the house "yelling cuss words at us." He said they took him to the Nazi house and handcuffed him after pushing him down on a couch.

"They asked, 'Are you Jewish?' I nodded," he related.

A few minutes later, he said, more men brought in two of his friends.

TAKE NAMES

Police arrived after receiving an anonymous telephone call, presumably from a neighbor. The boy said detectives took the names of two of the men.

The boy's mother says that when Rickey came home he paced about alternately laughing and crying until he was given tranquilizers and put to bed.

Tuesday, the boy's father, Hyman, swore out warrants charging Richard Robert Braun, 26, and Robert Franklin Garber, 31, both of Arlington, with felonious assault.

DEATH SHIPMENTS

'No Alternative,' Eichmann Claims

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann admitted today that he shipped Jews to the East, knowing they were going there to be exterminated.

"I must admit it—but I had instructions to send them there and I had no alternative," he pleaded to the Jewish court trying him for mass murder.

As he confessed this, a white-bearded Jewish spectator screamed "Du hund, du hund" (you dog, you dog), at Eichmann. He pointed to an Auschwitz death camp number tattooed on his left arm.

The demonstrator was led from the courtroom by two policemen. Later, the man, who identified himself as Nissim Nissan, 55, a Polish-born shoemaker, told police his wife and five children were killed by the Nazis in the ghetto at Lodz, in occupied Poland.

It was the first such demonstration since Eichmann took the stand four weeks ago. Eichmann ignored the incident.

Presiding Judge Moshe Landau then warned that "if there is anyone else who cannot take this, he should also leave at once." A young orthodox Jew with side curls left the courtroom with Nissan.

Eichmann, under cross-examination for the seventh day by Israeli attorney general Gideon Hausner, also admitted that he passed on orders for execution of Jews and that he was Nazi Germany's deportation boss.

Eichmann looked tired but was always quick with answers in a strong, clear voice, although many of his replies were evasive.

He continued insisting he did absolutely nothing on his own responsibility until one of the three Israeli judges asked incredulously how a department could possibly run in that way and why he wasn't fired.

"There were no complaints about my work," Eichmann replied blandly.

Eichmann denied insistently that he had anything to do with ordering or even suggesting that Jews should be killed by gassing. He denounced as a "forgery" a document which said he approved the idea.

Although Eichmann relies largely on documents to support him, he has branded a number as "forgeries" when they appeared to incriminate him severely.

Eichmann admitted he was summoned just once to Adolf Hitler's Reich chancellery where he said an official asked him for the use of one of his deportation trains to transport a group of mentally deficient persons for "mercy killing."

Eichmann said he voiced his surprise afterwards to his Gestapo boss, Gen. Heinrich Mueller, that the chancellery itself should have to come to him to ask for a train for such purposes.

School Superintendent Gets $48,000 A Year In Chicago

CHICAGO (UPI) — What do these three men have in common?

John F. Kennedy
Nelson A. Rockefeller
Benjamin C. Willis
As president of the United States and as governor of New York, Kennedy and Rockefeller are well known. Willis is not well known, except in educational circles and in the city of Chicago, where he is the general superintendent of schools. Yet he shares a bond with Kennedy and Rockefeller. They rank him on the public payroll.

The Chicago Board of Education last week decided Willis is worth $48,500 a year. That made his paycheck the third highest of all public officials in the nation. He has a better job, in terms of annual income, than any senator, congressman, or Supreme Court justice or any of 49 governors.

At $100,000 a year, plus $90,000 for expenses, Kennedy is in a class by himself among public officials. Rockefeller also does well, although not much better than Willis, at $50,000 a year.

Next in line behind Willis comes Gov. Edmund J. Brown of California at $40,000 a year. Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, technically Willis' boss, gets $35,000, as do Pennsylvania Gov. David Lawrence, Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Speaker of the House Samuel Rayburn, and the justices of the Supreme Court. Senators and congressmen must get by on $22,500 a year. Among governors Illinois' Otto Kerner is among the better paid at $30,000 a year.

Willis is not a stranger to controversy in Chicago. Yet most persons who have watched his work agree he is worth the money.

Willis is a determined-looking, 59-year-old native of Baltimore, Md. He came to his job in 1953 at $30,000 a year from Buffalo, N.Y., where he had been school superintendent for three years.

Chicago had a good school system in 1953 as big city educational plants go. But the city needed more classrooms and more and better teachers. Willis went to work on both problems.

The public school teachers, at $5,100 to $9,750 a year, became the best paid of any big city in the country. Classroom space was increased by more than 25 per cent. Willis found ways to get money for the school system and made sure he got his money's worth when it was spent.

Willis also stepped on some toes and started some arguments.

Persons close to the Chicago school system describe Willis as a tightlipped administrator but a tough boss.

He doesn't care for criticism or for interference from the school board, these persons say.

Raymond Pasnick, the only school board member to vote against rehiring Willis for more money, said the board was turning over too much policymaking power to the hard-minded superintendent.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People also objected to Willis. It said he was charting school districts so that Negro children couldn't get into predominantly all-white schools.

Campaign To Save Redwoods

Mrs. Robert M. Vilas, former Lagunitas School Board member, has launched a campaign to save a Redwood grove in San Geronimo Valley.

Mrs. Vilas, a resident of Central Avenue, Woodacre, started her drive last week at a Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission meeting. She told the commissioners that she feared the grove of trees—about a mile-long stretch on the old Sir Francis Drake Boulevard now called San Geronimo Valley Drive—may largely be destroyed with the area's further development.

She asked the commissioners what steps she and they could take to see that this would not happen. She explained that the grove is owned by several private citizens and by the Lagunitas Development Co.

The commissioners told Mrs. Vilas to get support for her cause from other persons and civic organizations. Then they passed a resolution requesting the county planning commission to do everything it could to guarantee that the grove will be spared when the area is developed.

Mrs. Vilas told the Independent-Journal today that she is going to seek support of both the San Geronimo Valley Assn. and the area's horsemen's associations.

The preliminary draft of the San Geronimo Valley Master Plan calls for recreation-commercial zoning in the area of the groves. But it specifies that as many trees as possible in the valley be saved. The Redwood grove is specifically named in the contingency. The plan was drawn up by the county planning staff.

Lady Singers Stop Barbershop Concert

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Four feminine harmonizers from San Francisco stopped the show at the ninth annual Barbershop Harmony Festival Saturday night in San Rafael High School auditorium.

The near-capacity crowd kept encoring the Jazzabellies and was loath to let them quit singing at all. Probably the smash hit of the half-dozen numbers sung by the four — Marie Disher, Reet Myers, Gloria Sandstrom and Pat Ruff — was a ditty called "The Tender Bartender."

Very close seconds in popularity were the Baytown Four, made up of Steve Carrick of Fairfax, Dick Taylor of San Leandro, Fred Anderson of Oakland and Don McDaniel of Berkeley. This quartet placed fourth in national competition in Philadelphia last month.

The Marin Chorus—membership of the Marin chapter, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America—was outstanding in choral numbers. This group, directed by Dave Stevens, has improved steadily each year.

Also showing improvement and proving that female voices can blend in choral close harmony were the Marin-nettes of the Marin chapter of Sweet Adelines, directed by Carrick.

An innovation for "barbershopper" programs was the Fun Type Family Four, a mixed quartet of Jean and Frank Sutcliffe and Bobby and Steve Carrick.

Other quarters, all proving crowd pleasers, were the Chord Reporters, Tenders of Note, Frisco Knights, Collegiates and Forte-Niners.

The crowd was probably the largest yet to attend an annual Barbershop Harmony Festival in Marin, proving the increasing popularity of what Stevens, as master of ceremonies, assured the audience is a truly American musical form.

Four Persons Treated For Dog Bites

Four persons were treated at San Rafael General Hospital last weekend for dog bites.

On Friday, Susan Giles, 44, of 610 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, tried to break up a fight between two of her dogs. One of them bit her on the left hand.

Saturday, three other persons were bitten:

Hospital attendants said none of the four was hurt seriously.

MYSTERY

Police Chief Clifton G. Cordes.

Mrs. Zerbe's 3-year-old son, Jamie, was asleep in his bed when Mehdy discovered the body. He was taken to the home of his mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Chestnut, at 10 Tamalpais Avenue, Larkspur. Chestnut is a San Francisco school teacher and a former member of the Fairfax Planning Commission.

Mehdy, who owns a San Francisco pharmacy, and spends only week ends at the Fairfax home, said the bathtub plug was partly pulled out and there was about three inches of water in the tub when he found the body. Mrs. Zerbe's right hand, bent behind her head, still clutched the hot water faucet.

Mehdy said Mrs. Zerbe and Knutson, a former Mill Valley resident, appeared at the Fairfax house a week ago and she paid a deposit on the upstairs apartment. Last week, with five or six others assisting, they moved furniture into the house. Mrs. Zerbe and her son moved in Saturday. Knutson was there yesterday.

Knutson left about 7:30 p.m., said Mehdy, to go to work at the Daly City night club. About two hours later, Mrs. Zerbe came downstairs and asked for a Bible. She said she wanted to look up a passage in "Revelations."

Mehdy had no Bible. Mrs. Zerbe went back upstairs. She seemed depressed, said Mehdy.

Twenty minutes later the Mehdy's saw water dripping from the ceiling.

Mrs. Zerbe was a secretary in the college program of the American Friends Service Committee in San Francisco where she had been employed for the past six months.

"She was a very good secretary, an awfully nice girl and appeared to have no problems," said Glenn Kitznerberger of the American Friends Service Committee.

STARS: One Is Attainable

GINA LOLLOBRIGIDA SAYS TO GAGARIN: YURI FOR ME

MOSCOW (AP)—Gina Lollobrigida and spaceman Yuri Gagarin met today in the office of Culture Minister Ekaterina Furtseva as part of the Moscow Film Festival.

Said Gagarin: "My associates are jealous of me being in the presence of a real star today."

"I have been up among the stars in the sky but they were unattainable."

To which Gina replied with a grin: "Well, I'm attainable."

Driver Hurt As Auto Leaves Road, Skids

Ronald Stewart Lind, 27, of 470 Edgewood Avenue, Mill Valley, was in satisfactory condition in Marin General Hospital today after his car left the road, rolled over and skidded 150 feet at Miller Avenue and the Mill Valley city limits as he was returning home late last night.

Lind suffered multiple face cuts and abrasions as his head crashed through the windshield of late model Swedish compact sedan. His passenger, Dennis Ziebnik, 23, also of the Edgewood Avenue address, suffered minor bruises.

Patrolman William Walsh reported Lind was northbound on Miller Avenue when he failed to make the turn.

Walsh said the car struck guard posts and a utility pole, spun for 25 feet, knocked down the city limits and street signs and careened another 125 feet before stopping.

league in stolen bases for six years.

Cobb was such a daring and impulsive baserunner that enemy managers made it a standing rule for their outfielders never to throw behind him.

He once scored from first base on an infield out and no errors were made. Another time he scored from third on an infield fly. That time Cobb had wandered back to the bag as the third baseman caught the fly, then Cobb was off towards home. The third baseman was so upset, he threw the ball over the catcher's head. Casey Stengel once remarked of Cobb, "He'd scare the hell out of you."

In his 23 colorful years — 1905-1928 — in the majors, Cobb set 90 records — many of which stand today. In the 3,033 games he played in, Cobb had 4,191 hits in 11,429 trips to the plate. His hits included 3,052 singles, 724 doubles, 297 triples and 119 homers.

Circulation Manager Suffers Cut Finger

A circulating power mower cut the circulation of the circulating manager, sending him to San Rafael General Hospital for treatment so he could continue circulating around the circulation department.

Julian C. Leone of 32 Edgewater Way, San Rafael, circulation manager of the Independent-Journal, cut the middle finger of his right hand using a power mower yesterday. He was treated in the hospital emergency ward.

of Civic Affairs that is starting the recall.

"Although many of the committee members belong to the Marin Council of Civic Affairs, this is in no way connected with it," Mrs. Kerr declared.

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs grew out of the Committee for the Civic Center, which was hastily organized after the board of supervisors, by 3-2 vote, stopped work on the civic center last January on the premise that the partially completed administration building might be converted to a hospital. Stockstad was first chairman of the committee. He was later succeeded by Leland H. Jordan, who is now chairman of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks suffered sizeable losses on the New York Stock Exchange today, closing at or around their lows in continued slow trading.

First-class issues bore the brunt of the selling as evidenced by a relatively steeper decline in the quality-laden Dow-Jones 30 industrial average than in the more inclusive Standard and Poor's 500.

A Little Sickness Builds Up Immunity

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

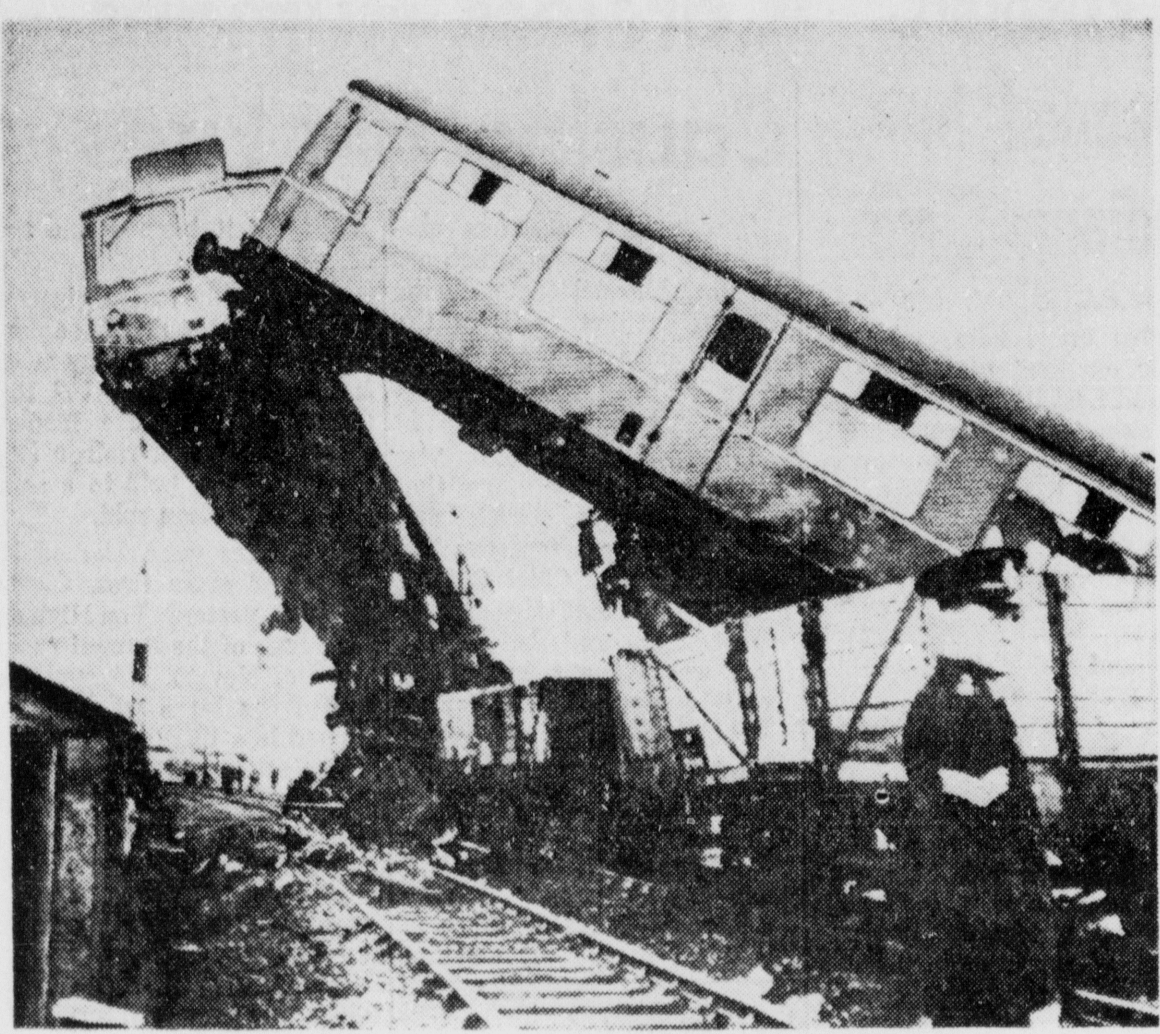

A little sickness is good for you.

This idea is not new, but only in the past few years has it been voiced with any authority by spokesmen of all the healing arts.

What do we mean by a "little sickness" and how can it be "good"? First, we have to face the fact that all of us get sick now and then. We know that nearly every child who leads a normal, healthy life will become exposed to colds and to one or more of the usual childhood diseases like chicken pox, measles and the mumps.

These ailments in most cases do more good than harm to the growing child... because they set up a protective immunity against the more serious diseases which may strike later in life. For instance, an attack of the measles, say at four years, could equip the body with sufficient natural defense to ward off a polio attack 10 or 12 years later. This type of natural immunity, tailored

Pope John's Encyclical Tough For Translators

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII's monumental social encyclical "Mater et Magistra" was a translator's nightmare for the Vatican's Latin scholars. Their problem: how to put the technical words of 1961 into ancient Latin, the official language of the Roman Catholic Church.

Russ Mission Arrives At Stanleyville

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — The United Nations said today that a Soviet Diplomatic mission has arrived at Stanleyville, stronghold of the left-wing Lumumbist regime of Antoine Gizenga.

A U.N. spokesman said the Russians arrived last week. Observers said their presence in the Congo could further complicate the political situation here.

The Soviet diplomatic mission was expelled from Leopoldville last year by Congolese army commander Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu.

Informed sources said the presence of the Russians in Lumumbist Oriental province could explain why Gizenga did not fly to Leopoldville yesterday along with 60 deputies from Stanleyville to attend the New Congo parliament scheduled called for the capital.

The Stanleyville deputies indicated that the spirit of the late Patrice Lumumba still seems to have its grip on the Congo parliament.

Nick Pietrosante, power runner of the Detroit Lions, thinks the best way to get in blocking experience is through contact in scrimmage.

How, for instance, could they best translate "automation" and "interplanetary space" — unknown when Latin was a living tongue in centuries past?

The pontiff wrote his encyclical in Italian and intended it to commemorate the 70th anniversary of Pope Leo XIII's encyclical "Rerum Novarum" — of new things — issued May 15, 1891. But "Mater et Magistra" — mother and teacher — was not released until last weekend.

The two-month delay was partly to get foreign language translations ready for simultaneous world release — and partly to give the Vatican's top Latin experts more time to connect the most precise Latin phrases for today's new words.

Automation came out "automatariae operationes" — automatic operations — and atomic energy "vis atomica."

Radio and television translated into "radiophonica et televisifica machina" and the chemistry of synthetics "chemica artificial."

"The initial conquests of interplanetary space" took a more involved and colorful translation: "viae initiae per quas ad sidera ferar" — the beginning ways by which we are carried to the stars.

More complex phraseology had to be used where the encyclical discussed international politics and world change. "Emerging nations" took the scholars seven words to set down in good Latin: "civitates quarum oeconomicae progressionis sint in cursu" — communities in which economic progresses are under way.

When the Pope talked of the population explosion, the scholars put the concept into Latin as "aucta cumulatim hominum multitudinis" — the increased building up of the multitudes of men.

'KING' READY FOR MEETING

Europe Getting Ready To Have Its Own MIT

PARIS (UPI) — Europe is in the process of establishing a multinational institute of technology comparable to America's famed MIT. NATO sources said today.

The scheme has been under consideration for several months by a committee of scientists headed by Dr. James R. Killian, chairman of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and onetime scientific adviser to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The multi-million-dollar project has reached the stage of final consideration by the committee, composed of some of the West's top scientists, the sources said.

Hope is that the plan will be completed, as far as its technicalities are concerned, at the end of the summer or the beginning of the autumn.

The NATO ministerial council started the project and is to have the final decision on approving it.

The idea of creating such a center in Europe came of the conviction that the Communist world is engaged in all-out competition with the free world in non-military fields.

Appraisal Appeals Being Heard

Equalization hearings of county appraisal appeals by the Marin County Board of Supervisors continued on a half-day basis today with the same tomorrow because regular sessions as supervisors were scheduled for both days.

But Wednesday, one week after start of the appeal hearings, there will probably be a full day of hearings for the first time.

"After that practically nothing is so far scheduled," said Assessor Bert W. Brommel. "All appeals must be filed no later than 5 p.m. Friday and past history has shown that the heaviest period of filings comes about the last three days, so quite likely the board of equalization will have some matters to consider at least up to the scheduled end of hearings on July 24."

Broemmel said that by closing time at the county clerk's office last Friday 65 appeals had been filed, compared with 85 filings by the same date last year.

"This is working out as the lowest year since 1958," he said.

No case testing the cycle reappraisal program had gone on file up to today, said Broemmel.

Best 18 holes ever scored in the National Open by an amateur was the 65 shot by Jim McHale in the third round at the St. Louis Country Club in 1947.

84 years old... yet he's called young

In a village in Israel, Samuel Dorenbaum is known as "Young" Dorenbaum! He's 84, and always stands when he works. "It keeps me fit," he says as he carves beautiful chessmen of olive wood. The twilight years of "Young" Dorenbaum are happy and productive... now. For 50 years he was a woodcarver in Rumania, then spent four years in an immigration camp with nothing to do. Transferred to Shaar Menashe, a village for the aged, Samuel was overjoyed to find a woodworking shop there. Said when he saw it... "Now I'll be all right."

Usefulness for Samuel Dorenbaum was made possible by Americans supporting the Overseas Aid Program of their faith. While this case is Jewish — all three faiths — Protestant, Catholic and Jewish — maintain extensive programs that provide useful work as well as basic food, clothing, shelter, education, farm tools — to the millions in need overseas.

These programs must continue. They offer the only hope to literally millions. Next time you are asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember the story of "Young" Dorenbaum! Give generously.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all, results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dym®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

You can do wonders with a freezer

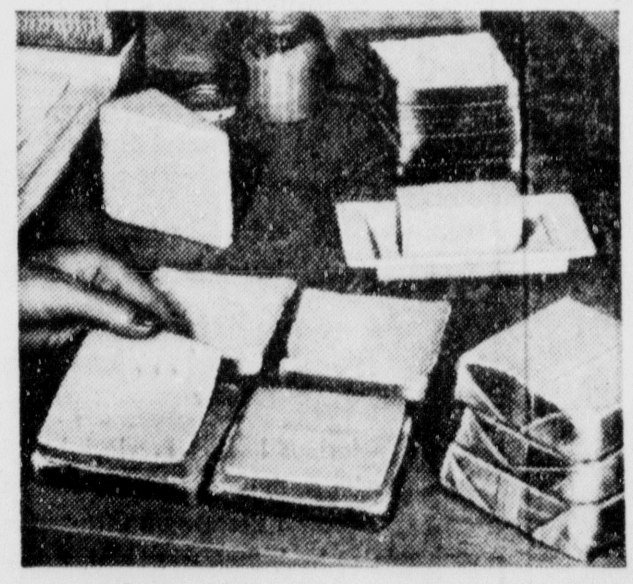

MEALS AHEAD. Prepare several recipes at one time—or make extra amounts of family favorites. Freeze in family-size portions. Perfect for last-minute meals or unexpected guests.

SPECIAL INGREDIENTS ON HAND. Make extra amounts of chopped parsley, peppers, onions, celery, etc. Spread on cookie sheet, freeze. Pack in small plastic bags and keep in freezer.

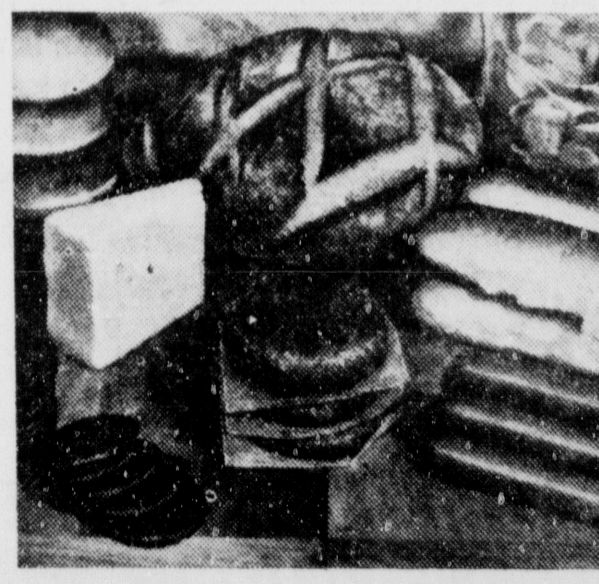

EASY DESSERTS AND SNACKS. Treats like ice cream cake, parfaits, or baked Alaska can be made when you can best spare the time; then stored to serve at a moment's notice.

SUMMER'S WORTH OF PICNICS. Make up sandwiches by the dozen. Freeze, then pack as needed for outings. They'll be thawed and ready-to-eat by the time you get where you're going.

MAGIC WITH LEFTOVERS. A freezer ends worries about cooking more than will be eaten. Yesterday's leftover turkey, roast or lamb can be used weeks later in new and appetizing dishes.

FAMILY SUPERMARKET. Store bread, buns, rolls, pastries, cookies, hamburger patties, hot dogs, potato chips. They'll stay fresh and save you "last minute" trips to the store.

Find out how a freezer lets you plan ahead, buy ahead, cook ahead, stock up on "specials" and quantity bargains—adds new convenience. Enjoy the wonderful advantages of freezer-living!

Freeman Lashes 'Cadillac Farmer'

WASHINGTON (AP) — That farmer who rode into town in a Cadillac to pitch scorn on farm subsidy payments has raised the ire of Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Freeman said Cadillac-driving William T. Smith, of Big Flats, N. Y., is far from a typical farmer and that his display was "a partisan propaganda stunt" designed to "make political hay."

When Smith drove into the capital 10 days ago he announced money the government paid him for not planting 104 acres with corn had provided a down payment on the auto. He said he would pay off the car with money he expected to get in the fall for not planting grain.

In a letter to the New York Times, Freeman said if all farmers had Smith's economic advantages "we would not need to be concerned with a farm program." Smith has more than 1,000 acres and also operates a roadside restaurant and dairy bar near his farm.

Freeman said "only a small minority of American farmers can be as fortunate" as Smith.

School Study Group Members Nominated

Seven persons have been nominated so far to serve as representatives of the public on the San Rafael schools curriculum study committee, Acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson announced today.

Nine public representatives are proposed on a 15-member committee, which would also include the directors of instruction in elementary and high school districts and four others from the schools' staffs, of whom at least two would be classroom teachers. Deadline for nominations is Aug. 8.

Nominated so far are: H. David Sokoloff, 101 Oak Ridge Road; Rev. Llewellyn White, 629 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood; J. P. Dowdall, 801 Descanso Way; Mrs. Chester Kerfoot, 220 Mirada Avenue; Mrs. Robert Bolt, 55 Culloden Park Road; Orin Moon, 361 Third Street; and Neil Best 179 Tamal Vista Drive.

Rev. White, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Nativity in Marinwood, is a resident of Dixie School District. No resident of San Jose School District has yet been nominated. Roderick P. Martinelli, president of the San Rafael Board of Education, last week stressed that the committee should include representatives of Dixie and San Jose elementary districts, which are within San Rafael High School District.

The committee is to spend the next school year in an overall study of the curriculum of elementary and high schools in the San Rafael districts. It is charged especially with looking into courses in freshman orientation and exploratory language in high school, and life adjustment courses in junior high, which have been under attack by parents and board member Bella Aaron. It is not to limit its study to this area, however.

Simpson stressed that any resident of the San Rafael Elementary or High School District may submit a nominee or nominees for the committee.

Marin Painter Booked On Attack Charge

A San Rafael house painter was booked at Marin County Jail early today on charges of assault and battery and attempted rape of a 20-year-old San Rafael woman.

Robert Burke Nunnally, 37, of 2 Oak Street, was released in $1,050 bail for appearance in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The girl told sheriff's deputies her mother and stepfather had known Nunnally for some time, and agreed she could go out with him last night.

He took her to China Camp, parked and made advances. When she screamed and honked the car horn, he put an arm across her throat, choking her, and threatened to kill her, she said.

Another car drove up. The girl jumped out and ran to it for help. Nunnally drove away, and the persons in the other car took her home, she related. Nunnally was arrested at his home by deputies and San Rafael police.

2 Explorers Trapped In Indiana Cave

ORLEANS, Ind. (UPI) — A flooded crawl hole and "fantastic suction" of the underground Lost River today blocked skindivers searching for two explorers trapped in an unmapped limestone cave.

Three skindivers wormed and crawled their way 800 feet into the flooded cave where veteran "spelunkers" Ralph Moreland and Thomas Arnold, both 25-year-old graduate students of Indiana University, disappeared yesterday.

But the skindivers couldn't get through the entrance of a "crawl hole" — a passage so narrow a man can barely squeeze through it. The crawl hole entrance was under seven to eight feet of water and skindiver James Langhammer said the suction of the water racing into it was "fantastic."

State police detective Sgt. Wendell Opel said no more searchers would seek to get through the crawl hole until the water drops.

The skindivers and other rescue workers were increasingly pessimistic of finding Moreland and Arnold alive.

Although the water at the cave mouth had dropped 15 feet since last night's half-foot cloudbursts, Opel said he did not believe it would be safe to send skindivers into the cave again until sunset. By that time he said, the water may have fallen away from the crawl hole.

Beyond the crawl hole, local farmers said, is a cavern where a man might stand. It was conceivable the spelunkers found safety in an air pocket somewhere beyond.

Careless Humans Causing Big Fires

Human carelessness continues to cause fires which are plaguing Marin County during the current hot spell, at the rate of more than one a day.

Burning in an illegal incinerator by Edward Monaghan of 183 Oak Manor Drive, was blamed for a 15-acre fire that destroyed grass, brush and trees Saturday afternoon. Marin County Fire Chief Charles Reilly said that five homes were endangered before the blaze was brought under control. The area was patrolled all night to see that there were no flare-ups, Reilly said.

Children playing with matches was blamed for a second fire Saturday afternoon. The Marin County Fire Department controlled that blaze at the Marin County Civic Center

NLRB Move Gains In Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Government Operations Committee today voted 6-3 to recommend approval of President John F. Kennedy's controversial plan to reorganize the National Labor Relations Board.

Defeated by the vote was a resolution by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen to "veto" the plan. The committee action sent the "veto" resolution to the Senate with a recommendation that the plan be allowed to take effect.

Reorganization plans go into effect automatically within 60 days unless vetoed by either the House or Senate. Senate action on the NLRB proposal is tentatively set for Wednesday.

site after it burned one acre of grass.

A carelessly tossed cigarette was blamed for starting a grass fire at 2:50 a.m. Sunday at the McLeran Roofing at 142 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera, Fire Chief Frank Nelson said. The blaze was held to a small spot area, Nelson said.

Cigarettes were blamed for two other grass fires. One at 4:21 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 north of the Buzzini ranch, north of Novato. Firemen controlled the blaze when it had burned less than one acre.

The other was a small grass area in the Rock Springs picnic grounds at about 8:20 p.m. yesterday in Samuel Taylor State Park. It was quickly put out by Marin County firemen and state rangers.

County Fire Chief Charles R. Reilly warned today that the "entire state is in a condition of fire hazard comparable to September due to shortage of rain and hot weather. It's going to take a long uphill grind," he said, "to get through this summer as critical as it is, without a serious fire in the county. It's going to take a lot of co-operation and care by Marin residents," he emphasized.

Ross School Board To Consider Budget

The Ross School District board will consider its publication budget of $244,350 at its regular meeting at 8 p.m. today in Ross School.

The proposed budget does not include the work scheduled on the Ross School library, Supt. Donald D. Leister said. The library work will be discussed and board members will decide whether or not to add the costs to the budget, Leister said.

BEACH SCUFFLE—Police carry a youth from Rainbow Beach on Chicago's south side after a scuffle that climaxed the second week of organ-

Chicago's 'Wade-In' Causes A Scuffle

CHICAGO (AP)—Antagonism between white bathers and police and a scuffle in which a white teen-ager was carried unconscious from the beach yesterday marked the second weekend of organized integration "wade-ins" at Rainbow Beach.

Eleven white youths were arrested by a police task force of 250 men, commanded by Capt. James Hackett, which patrolled the South Side Lake Michigan Beach.

Nine were charged with disorderly conduct and unlawful assembly. Two others, both juveniles, were released in the custody of their parents.

Those arrested were among more than 500 white youths who jeered officers and a mixed group of some 175 integration demonstrators at the traditionally all-white public beach.

The demonstrators arrived at midday and sat in the sand among the 10,000 persons sunning and swimming at the three-block-long beach between 75th and 78th streets.

The groups of white youths began walking among the demonstrators and crowding around policemen. Then they began a chant: "Go, go, go."

As Hackett and his men moved in to break up the youths, a 19-year-old kicked one officer and struck at another.

Several officers, with nightsticks drawn, grabbed and subdued the teen-ager who fell unconscious to the sand. He was carried to a police squad car and whisked off to a police station.

The youth later told authorities he was not knocked unconscious by police clubs but passed out in the excitement. He said he suffered from epilepsy.

The kicking incident came as the integrationists were leaving the beach. All departed peacefully and no flareups between white persons and Negroes were reported.

However, the scuffle touched off angry murmurs in the crowd. Hackett then grabbed a portable loudspeaker and commanded: "The crowd on the beach constitutes an unlawful assembly. You will disperse or be arrested in the name of the people of the state of Illinois."

Most persons left the beach. Hackett later rescinded the order and police allowed a few white families and a number of bathers to use the beach area.

$2 MILLION WORTH OF ART IS STOLEN

SAINT TROPEZ, France (AP)—Thieves stole 57 Impressionist paintings valued at nearly two million dollars from a museum here yesterday and carted them off by truck. It was France's biggest art robbery since the "Mona Lisa" was stolen in 1911.

The haul included masterpieces by Maurice Utrillo, Henri Matisse, Raoul Dufy and Pierre Bonnard. It was the sixth art robbery on the Riviera in the past 18 months.

The paintings stolen from the Annonciade Museum of Modern Art were part of a collection French industrialist Georges Grammont donated in 1955 to the town of Saint Tropez, his favorite vacation spot.

The stolen works, insured against fire but not theft, included "Woman at the Window" and "The Gypsy" by Matisse, "The Jetty at Honfleur" by Dufy and "Saint Tropez Harbor" by Bonnard.

The thieves left behind 43 paintings and several sculptures worth an estimated one million dollars.

The museum, a converted chapel located in a pine grove, is not guarded during the night. A cleaning woman discovered the theft two hours before opening time.

Police said the thieves pried a grill from a door, forced a lock and left no tracks or fingerprints. A neighbor said she heard a truck roar away from the museum between 2 and 3 a.m.

Because art masterpieces can not be disguised, virtually the only market for a stolen painting is a collector willing to enjoy his purchase in secret.

The most famous theft of modern times, the stealing of the "Mona Lisa" from the Louvre, was the work of an Italian who felt it should be returned to its native Italy. The painting was found in Florence two years later.

Many of the estimated 1.8 million dollars worth of paintings taken in the five earlier Riviera thefts have been recovered.

GOP Conclave Backs Nixon For Governor

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has been called "the most qualified man in our state" to be governor by heads of the Republican State Central Committee.

The 75-member executive committee urged Nixon to run for the post in a resolution approved Saturday.

In an address, Rep. Bob Wilson (R-Calif.), expressed optimism about the GOP's chances in the 1962 elections and said California Republicans in Congress, meeting Friday in Washington, agreed that Nixon must decide for himself whether to run for governor.

Meanwhile, Kentucky's GOP Sen. Thruston B. Morton said in Louisville yesterday that he has told Nixon the Republicans will have to win the California governorship if the former vice president is to remain a potential presidential candidate for 1964 or 1968.

Goldwater On '64: 'Rocky Nice, But ...'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), says he hasn't anything personal against Nelson A. Rockefeller, but he wouldn't want to team up with the New York governor on a GOP national ticket in 1964.

"A darn nice fellow," was the way Goldwater described Rockefeller here this weekend. "But," the senator added, "What would a party be doing with Rockefeller in Chicago advocating federal aid to education and me in Los Angeles talking against it?"

Rockefeller, meanwhile, was reported to be getting conflicting advice on whether to speak out on national and foreign policy issues.

Some advisers were said to be telling the governor that if he wants to run for president in 1964—they are convinced he does—he should begin making his voice heard nationally as well as in New York.

Another set of advisers contend his kind of silence is golden. Otherwise, these advisers say, he could be accused of running for re-election as governor in 1962 only as a stepping stone to the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

Goldwater's remarks about the governor came in a question-and-answer period following a Saturday speech to a political action conference sponsored by Human Events, a weekly Washington newsletter. Its authors say it takes a conservative but non-partisan line.

Goldwater attacked what he called strong socialistic trends in the United States.

Belvedere Planners

The Belvedere Planning Commission will meet at 8 p.m. today in the city offices, chairman George Goddard announced. Several requested variances will be considered.

Here's how we manage four vacations every month

"We used to have the world's duller weekends. Now every weekend is a vacation for the whole family. The difference is a symphony of teak, brass and canvas—our spanking new boat! She's part of the Big Plan which Kathryn and I started several years ago. Another part of it is the house we enjoy so. And the trust fund for putting our boys through college.

"Every time we step aboard our new boat I'm glad we put our Big Plan to work."

The plan didn't seem so big at the time. In fact, it began with an unpleasant situation. Roy and Kathryn were living from one paycheck to the next. They came to Crocker-Anglo for a loan to pay off a stack of bills.

After the loan was repaid, they decided to keep right on making the monthly payments—but to themselves, in care of a C-A savings account.

Thanks to these savings, they were ready when Roy was offered the option to buy a little stock in the company where he worked.

As the company grew, the stock increased in value. Roy talked it over with Crocker-Anglo's investment department and decided to buy even more.

He was preparing for the next step in the Big Plan. Sooner or later, he'd have the chance to buy a branch-office franchise from his company. The chance came.

Crocker-Anglo is still part of that Big Plan. Just the other day Roy called our international banking people for advice about some export business he's been offered.

Helping people use their bank for all it's worth is the most satisfying part of our job. It has a way of turning small plans into Big ones...and these into sweet success. Try us.

Parking Area Plan Needed With Gate Bridge Widening

Reconstruction of the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge to straighten the sharp curve on the viaduct and widen the entrance lanes may get under way as early as next month.

The bridge directors have authorized the general manager to advertise for bids on the $1,200,000 project just as soon as Army officials complete final approval of the plan. That's expected before the end of the month.

But one vital bit of construction which should be in the plans has not yet been included. Missing is a new parking lot on the west side of the Marin approach.

Widening the bridge 20 feet on the west side as planned, will eliminate the present parking area entirely. A new one should be constructed, one which would provide a method for Marin motorists to drive to the bridge-head, park their cars, enjoy the view, and then drive home without having to cross the bridge twice, as they do now.

The bridge board agrees that such a parking area should be provided. A resolution introduced by San Francisco Director William D. Hadeler and supported by Marin Director Leland Murphy calls for planning a new west side parking area.

But it is not being considered in the present reconstruction plans.

General Manager James Adam reports that actually it is not the bridge district's responsibility to provide the parking; it is up to the State Division of Highways. The state agrees and two years ago put $40,000 in the highway budget for the project. The directors that year rejected the idea.

Now, certainly, after that rebuff, the initiative will have to come from the bridge directors. Just as certainly the design of the parking area should be related to the bridge widening project design.

We're not clear just how this can be done if the project is advertised for bids before the next bridge board meeting. But it should be.

We trust that Directors Murphy and Hadeler will be able to find a way.

YOU ARE INVOLVED IN OUTER SPACE

Every citizen of the USA had a financial stake in the first flight that took an American into outer space.

Project Mercury which successfully brought about the short space hop by Alan Shepard, cost $400 million. That figures to about $2.25 for each of the nation's 180 million men, women and children.

The price-tag for sending a man to the moon will amount to 100 times that when all the bills are in. The cost has been estimated at $40 billion or more, which will be about $225 per person.

Because you are a paying customer in man's space venture, make sure that everything done in the name of science is both an advance for humanity and an investment well made.

It may not be easy, but the Lord wants you and millions of others like you to take an intelligent and conscientious interest in the headline-making events of the day. Do what you can to make sure that science helps man, and never harms him.

"Yours are the heavens, and Yours is the earth, the world and the fullness thereof You have founded." (Psalm 88:12)

Enlighten and guide, O Holy Spirit, those who dedicate their lives to scientific programs.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Peace Through Law Idealistic

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

In your editorial of July 7 you wrote on the San Jose, Costa Rica conference of lawyers of Americas on world peace through the rule of law.

From an idealistic point of view, this meeting and the news releases sounds good. However, there are other things that should be considered. This group, as I understand it, is the American Bar Assn. Special Committee on "world peace through world law." They are conducting an international campaign to get the United States to accept compulsory jurisdiction of the world court.

The chairman of this committee is Charles Rhyne, who is already on record as favoring repeal of the Connally Amendment which reserves for the United States the right to determine if a case involving this country is a proper matter for submission to the world court.

The idea of a world court to settle international differences is not a new idea and it is possible that this may come about at some future time. However, as long as we have Khrushchev, the Red Chinese, and other such groups running loose in the world, I believe we should stick with current realities and retain the Connally Amendment so that the United States may determine what issues are proper for world court jurisdiction.

I also note that this committee on "world peace through world law" received a grant of $200,000 from a federal agency known as the International Cooperation Administration. It seems unfortunate to me that our own tax money is used to propagate an issue which many taxpayers under the present world situation are not in favor of.

For the time being, let's keep in touch with reality; let's keep the Connally Amendment and let's take a good look at what we are going to buy before we buy it.

Good Example Of Lousy Government

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

Mr. Fusselman and his stooges have brought shame to Marin County. A San Francisco radio station, KCBS, has let everyone know how intolerable the situation is by broadcasting a special editorial on the subject of our county administrator and his harassment by the stooges.

It's such a good example of lousy government that people in San Francisco are interested in hearing the disgusting details.

Why isn't Fusselman man enough to at least say, "If that's what the people want, I'll change my vote?"

Jets Scare Cows, Not Fusselman

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

We salute Mr. Fusselman's constituents, who return him to office again and again. They know that Marin is a cow county and 19th Century administrative procedures are good enough for them. They want Mr. Fusselman to have his way, regardless of what the ultimate costs to all of us taxpayers may be.

Nobody, least of all an appointee, should entertain the fantasy that a multi-million dollar corporation needs a general manager. It's awfully good—probably—that Mr. Fusselman tenaciously fights for his right to count the paper clips, personally pass on the location of spittoons and have final judgment on the hiring of the first and last clerk-typist.

We admire you high-income Fusselman constituents. Down our way, we may not be able to afford the direct and hidden costs forever, of having Mr. Fusselman's right bower, Blair, represent us. It's just not awfully economical, living in the 19th Century in a cow county, no matter how much we'd like it to be. Those darned jet planes seem to scare the cows. But not Mr. Fusselman.

Marin Women's Meetingitis Is Nothing But A Maypole Dance

The geography of Mill Valley, and Marin, promotes group conformity, group meetings, group things, we are told.

Becky Matson, who lives on a Mill Valley hill, says "We live in a sort of rabbit warren of hills at the foot of our lovely mountain. You're in a spot on a hill in the trees and cannot see another neighbor. You don't know what's going on."

"So, being gregarious, women go out and meet. It's the same motivation Egyptian women had when they came out at a certain hour to meet at the water well."

MRS. MATSON calls this "meetingitis" of Marin women the Maypole Dance.

"Maypole Dance?" we asked. "Yes, Maypole Dance," she retorted. "It comes in different stages. The first stage is when we're dancing around the pole with diapers and bottles for a cooperative nursery."

"Next, we pick up the blue ribbon of the Blue Birds. Then, as we become more rooted, the children go to school and the dance really becomes wild. Mother is free, free to join social groups, free to join 'constructive' clubs. She takes the children to piano lessons, Cub Scouts, junior choir. Her days are spent with telephone in one hand, steering wheel in the other."

"THE FOURTH stage on the Maypole is when children become so self sufficient they can walk to meetings. They are Boy Scouts, which involves the other spouse. Mother becomes freer and can pursue political parties, county-wide petitions.

Why do women feel they must dance around the Maypole? we asked. Mrs. Matson replied that there probably are different reasons such as guilt complex, do-gooders, etc., but that she believes diaper changers, committee chairmen and familychaffeur women are really masqueraders.

At one time they were biochemists, teachers and social workers. "Small wonder they would rather dance the Maypole than wrestle with an ironing board."

JOYCE GROSS, very active, says that women enter activities because of a sense of duty of a job that has to be done. "Man is away from home 7 to 7 and it is difficult for him to take an active part in the community."

What do you do in summer, we asked Mrs. Philip Smith. "I'm leaving for Montana in five minutes," she said.

Doris Jenkins said that in summer there are one of two things you can do — one is leave the state, the other is to have a nervous breakdown.

People who know their meetings break them down into church, school, social and civic. At the meetings you find the knitters and menders ("she does very little talking.") The perennial objector ("if it's a small item, the bigger the objection. Kind of like Parkinson's Law.")

There are those who always say "But we didn't do it that way when I was president." And there are those who spend most of their time trying to decide whether to put the mustard on the hot dogs or on the sideboard.

"WHEN WE take a long look at the Maypole," Mrs. Matson said, "we can either say we have done a fairly fine job and that the streamers are well wound, or we can see the dreadful mess and never be able to unravel it. Then we turn to other things as simple as to bid six spades and double and redouble. Or read a book."

"I think woman should lose the vote. If we couldn't vote, we couldn't organize. If we couldn't vote we couldn't have secretaries and presidents and committee chairmen or think intelligent thoughts. We could get rid of the Maypole Dance."

OVER BERLIN --

Army Reservists Say They're Ready To Go

By MYRON FEINSILBER

LODI, N. J. (UPI)—Would you be willing to go to war for your country over Berlin?

Would you, Cpl. Louis West, 25, television time salesman for an advertising agency and Tuesday night soldier?

How about it, Richard La Iacoma, 26, reserve sergeant, night-time college scholar and daytime defense worker?

And you, supermarket butcher Richard Surowiec, 25, of Garfield, N.J.—What if you were one of the reservists called away from your home and put into uniform again.

WEST, LA IACOMA and Surowiec—three young men who spend their Tuesday evenings in khaki—joined four fellow Army reservists at the invitation of United Press International and sat in stuffed chairs in a stuffy conference room in the Alexander Hamilton Army Reserve Training Center and talked about themselves and Berlin.

If they are typical, if they spoke for their millions of counterparts throughout the nation, they made one thing clear: America's reservists are willing to fight, if fight they must, for a free Berlin.

They said: They are not, in the tart phrase of Thomas Paine, "sunshine patriots."

They are not overawed by the fearsome weaponry of the age; they are not atomic cowards.

Nor are they very clear about—or even very concerned over—the issue of Berlin, or the diplomatic complexities of free access routes and the Soviet threat of a separate peace treaty with the East Germans.

But they are ready to fight! Here's what they said: La Iacoma, who works around the garden of his mortgaged split-level and goes to Fairleigh Dickinson University nights for a masters degree in business: "I become very angry at world politics when I sit around and think. I'm tired of appeasement. I want to fight like hell in Berlin to stop it. And this atomic thing scares me not."

DENNIS McNAMARA, 36, master sergeant, a bachelor who wears horn-rimmed glasses and gets kidded by co-workers at the propeller manufacturing plant where he works because sometimes he reads an Army manual during lunch: "I knew what I was fighting for in Korea. I'd just as soon not go through appeasement again."

Thomas Schneider, staff sergeant father of three, an industrial photo supply salesman: "I'm not obliged to be here. Once a year, we sign a paper. We state we're ready to defend our country. Well, we're ready."

The reservists insisted that, what's more, the reserves are ready.

IT'S A BEAUTIFUL JOB

'Miss Universe' Starts Her Chores For 1961

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Willow Marlene Schmidt, a green-eyed beauty with a big, disarming smile, bade farewell to many of her erstwhile competitors today and got busy on her new job — being "Miss Universe" of 1961.

The 24-year-old German, selected by a panel of international experts as "the most beautiful girl in the world," reigned supreme at last night's coronation ball.

It was the final official event of the tenth annual beauty contest.

The tall, silver-blond from Stuttgart met today with officials of the four-day contest to complete plans for personal appearances and promotion during the coming 12 months.

"I'm very happy it's over," Marlene said in reference to the Saturday night judging, "but I still can't believe it. It seems like everything happens too quickly."

Less than one month ago, she took leave from a $54-a-week job as a research engineer for an electronics and radio firm in Stuttgart. She plans to return to that job when her reign ends.

"This is like fairyland to me," the 5-foot-8 Marlene said in reference to her three-room executive suite in Miami Beach hotel. She will remain here two to three weeks, return to Germany to visit relatives, then come back to the United States to fulfill commitments of the pageant winner.

Less than a year ago, Marlene boarded a train in Bresslau and crossed the Iron Curtain into West Germany. Her mother and a 17-year-old sister made a similar trip the previous day. Her father died as a German soldier on the Russian front during World War II.

Selection of the German entry was a popular one with the other girls. Marlene, endowed with a 36½-23-36 figure, was mentioned more often than any other delegate in an informal poll of contestants' choices for the title.

Rosemarie Frankland of Wales, first runner-up; Adriana Gardiazbal of Argentina, second runner-up; and Sharon Brown, Miss U. S. A. from Minden, La., also predicted in advance Marlene would finish among the top five.

"Miss U. S. A.," was fourth runner-up for the international title.

Gold Dust Tavern To Change Hands

The Gold Dust Tavern, 39 Caledonia Street, Sausalito has been sold to David Otis and Steven McMichael, it was announced today. Both men are Sausalito residents.

Roy Delain, present owner, said he will carry on the business until the liquor license has been transferred and after that may go into some other line of work either in Novato or in Santa Rosa.

Otis previously managed a bar in Colorado; McMichael, formerly from Philadelphia, has recently been discharged from the Coast Guard.

Upon taking possession of the premises, Otis said, he and McMichael will close about two weeks for remodeling and reopen the establishment under the name of "Conglomeration."

The sale of the business was handled by Harry Abras of Redmond Realty, San Rafael.

President Of Pakistan Wants Yankee Dollars

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Ayub Khan says Pakistan wants the backing of the United States in spiritual and moral courage plus the practical aid of dollars invested.

He made this plea at a barbecue on Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's ranch near here yesterday on the eve of his departure for home. Ayub is in the United States for policy talks with President John F. Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The Pakistan president told a crowd of 450 Texans — including many top-bracket industrialists and businessmen — that his country is hemmed in geographically by great powers and is depending upon the United States to help it preserve its freedom.

Ayub said Pakistan is ready to make concessions to create a favorable industrial climate for investment opportunities by Americans. He said this type of practical aid is needed for Pakistan to develop its potentials to resist foreign encroachments.

"We have a margin of 15 to 20 years to make good," Ayub said. "If we do, we have a chance of survival. The task is enormous and we ask our friends to help us develop our strength."

He also said that Pakistan "expects a lot of you in spiritual and moral courage more than anything else. You have a large heart but you must have a still larger heart. We are your friends. We have had our differences and I came here to help iron some of them out. Please don't do anything that would make the actions of your friends more difficult."

Russ Outsmart Themselves As U.S. Tracksters Win

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians outsmarted themselves when they agreed to keep separate men's and women's scores in the weekend track meet against the United States. Today they were trying to explain that, after all, it's the grand total of victories that count.

The American men whipped the Soviet athletes, 13-9 in events and 124-111 in score based on a 5-3-1 scale in the third of their series of clashes that ended yesterday, in a miserable rain. The Soviet women won 68-39.

Now the Americans head for Stuttgart and a meet with East Germany tomorrow and Wednesday.

Valery Brumel, the wonderful Soviet teen-ager, smashed the world high jump record by clearing 7 feet, 4 inches under wretched conditions and Ralph Boston of Tennessee State topped his own pending world broad jump record of 27 feet, ½ inch by soaring 27 feet, 1¾ inches.

America's John Thomas cleared 7 feet 2 inches in the high jump but missed three times at 7 feet, 4 inches although he was almost over on his last shot.

The Soviet women completely dominated their meet, winning eight of 10 events.

"We only made them separate meets because of our American friends," complained Leonid Khomenkov, chief of the Soviet version of the AAU, dropping a few sour grapes on the way. "Don't they total up all the gold medals in the Olympics for both men and women?"

DISCRIMINATION

"The United States is the only nation in the world that separates its men's and its women's teams. We will never discriminate against our women in the Soviet Union. As far as we are concerned we won 17 events to America's 15."

When the Russians agreed to run it as two separate meets, they quietly laughed up their sleeve figuring that they could win the men's meet and then could crow that they even beat the United States at its own game.

They really thought they'd win," said Pinky Sober, chief of the U. S. National AAU Track and Field Committee.

"Their coach, Gabriel Korobkov, told me so before the meet."

American coach, Jumbo Jim Elliott said he could put his finger on some of the events the Soviet Union expected to win.

"I know they thought they would win the 800," he said, "because Jim Dupree hadn't looked good in a couple of races here. Then they were sure they had a sprinter — Edwin Ozolin — who could beat Frank Budd in the 200."

WORLD RECORD

"They figured they'd surely win the 400-meter relay and they did have a fine team and it took a world record by our boys to beat them. But that's how it goes."

A crowd of about 55,000 showed up at Lenin Stadium. The sun shone at the start, but later rain started to fall.

The other United States victories yesterday were by Jay Silvester of the U. S. Army in the discus — 191-9½, Cliff Cushman of Grand Forks, N. D. in the 400-meter hurdles—50.5, Jim Beatty in the 1,500 meters — 3:43.8, which equals a 4:00.8 mile, and the 1,600-meter relay, with Adolph Plummer, Chuck Frazier, Earl Young, and Ulis Williams, 3:08.8.

The Soviet Union won five events — the javelin with Viktor Tsybulenko — 272-8½, 3,000-meter steeplechase with Nikolai Sokolov — 8:35.4, the 5,000 meters with Pyotr Bolotnikov — 13:58.4, and the decathlon with Yuri Kutenko — 7,615 points, besides the high jump.

Tatyana Schelkanova set a women's world broad jump record of 21-3. Willie White of Chicago tied the listed record of 20-11¾.

Great Robin Roberts Not Ready To Quit Yet Despite Bad Start

It was strange yesterday to see the Phillies in Candlestick Park without Robin Roberts, the winningest Redcap in the history of the Philadelphia club.

Robbie, however, is not ready to quit yet. He went on the disabled list last Wednesday because of a knee injury. If the twisted knee, injured in sliding July 2, responds to treatment he will be back in 30 days.

"I'll know when to quit," said the 34-year-old righthander when we were in Philly with the Giants a few weeks back. "I don't know how I'll know but I will."

Roberts doesn't expect to get the "message" in the near future despite a sorry 1-8 record this year, his only win of 1961 being over the Giants.

"It must sound silly to hear me say how good I feel," was the way he put it the night the Giants and Phillies tangled in that 5 hour and 1 minute 15-inning tie. "Deep inside of me I know I can pitch winning baseball."

THE ONE-TIME farm boy from Springfield, Ill., shook his head slowly as he said: "This is a strange statement, but I wouldn't be kidding myself—not with a 1-8 record."

When it was suggested that he has too much pride and more than enough financial security to risk an embarrassing ending to a distinguished career, Roberts agreed.

"The game has been good to me," he said. "And I want to do the right thing."

Roberts, signed for a $25,000 bonus out of Michigan State College, has been among the highest salaried players in the majors during his 14 seasons with the Phillies. He won 20 or more games six years in a row and posted a high of 23 victories in 1952. His peak salary reportedly was $55,000.

IN RECENT seasons, however, his effectiveness has suffered along with the loss of the

"hop" on a fast ball that was his main stock in trade. Nevertheless, he topped the Philly staff in wins with 17 in 1959 and 12 last season.

Roberts had the greatest spring training season of his career this year, then suffered seven defeats in succession equalling his all-time low of 1957, before he finally beat the Giants at San Francisco on June 5.

Yet, Roberts has a hunch "things will work out." He blames his latest mound troubles on an inability to relax. "I'm forcing myself," he said, "making pitches I wouldn't if I weren't trying so hard."

For instance, Roberts, as fine a control pitcher as baseball has ever produced, traced a considerable number of enemy hits this season to serves that were "up."

"SURE IT would be nice to get out there on the mound and tell yourself to 'forget everything.' But it's not that simple. I know because I've tried to do it."

Admired, respected and liked by his teammates, Roberts is important to the Phillies in their improvement program and they are rooting for him to re-discover his one-time mound wizardry.

"Nobody," one of them told us, "has the right to tell Robbie when to quit. He earned that distinction by being a great pitcher, competitor, wonderful guy and a gentleman."

It's Official! Nam Sang Winner Of Transpac Race

HONOLULU (AP)—With the Transpacific yacht race already won by the 66-foot cutter Nam Sang, the little Class D boats scrapped hotly for position today, separated by only five handicap miles.

Dueling for best of class and virtually bumping into each other by the handicap clock were Vamonos, No Hu Hu, Nomad and Tyboon. They are the smallest of the 41 yachts in the 2,225-mile race.

The race for overall handicap winner was over at 6:12 a.m. yesterday when the 50-foot Los Angeles sloop Ichiban crossed the Diamond Head finish line. Ichiban was Nam Sang's only serious contender.

Sikes Sets Sights On U.S. Amateur

DETROIT (AP)—Dick Sikes, who will lose his shadow if he takes off any more weight, starts building up today for the National Amateur in September at Pebble Beach, Calif.

For the next two weeks, he will be fenced off from a golf course. The 21-year-old University of Arkansas golf team captain, who Saturday captured the National Public Links title, is recuperating while serving National Guard duty at Ft. Chaffee, Ark.

He already has broken a medalist jinx, becoming the third qualifying leader ever to go on to win the public links crown in the tourney's 36-hole history.

He did it with a 4 and 3 decision over John Molenda, Detroit Tech student, in Saturday's scheduled 36-hole windup on the expansive par 35-35—70 Rackham course.

Tiburon, M.V. Semi-Pro Clubs Beaten

Marin County semi-pro baseball clubs battled zero yesterday in competition with Bay Area rivals.

The Tiburon Pelicans went 11 innings before losing a 3-2 squeaker to the Giant Rookies of San Francisco while over at Mill Valley the local Merchants dropped a 14-5 count to the Berkeley Gray Sox.

The Giant club got its winning run in the 11th when, after starting pitcher Tom King got the bases loaded on a hit and two walks, reliever Fred DeMartini walked across the deciding tally.

The Giants overcame a 1-2 deficit in the ninth inning on Jerry Eilers' home run to force the overtime.

Tiburon scored in the first and third innings with former pro Ron Stuart the hero in each case. In the first Stuart rapped a double to score Eddie Vigno, who had singled and stolen second, and in the third Ron came back with another double that scored Bob Sapp, who was on via an error.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY

The Pelicans turned in two double plays. Stuart to short-stop Ron Blum and King to Sapp at first. They also committed bold robbery in broad daylight by stealing seven bases, two each by Vigno, Stuart and Bob DeRosa and one by Ken Anderson.

DeRosa shared batting laurels with Stuart as he too had a pair of doubles.

Mill Valley, stressing a youth movement this year under the management of Bob Selna, committed seven errors in its loss. The Berkeley club scored six times in the first inning on three boots and seven more in the ninth on four bobbles.

Mill Valley out-hit the winners, 11 to 7, with Tom Leps slamming a home run and Larry Soldavini a triple and double.

The Merchants were cheered by a strong relief mound job by John Walker who retired 12 straight batters in a middle-inning role. He was taken out for a rest as he'd pitched a game Saturday.

YOUTH MOVEMENT

Selna said his Merchants have been taking their lumps this season, but defended his "youth movement" as a step toward top notch baseball for Mill Valley in the future. "In the past Mill Valley was going with players around 30 years old and playing lower class competition that we could beat," he explained. "This year we've given a lot of youngsters the chance to play and we've booked Class A ball clubs. Sure, we're getting beat now, but these kids will develop and in the near future we'll be able to give the fans of Mill Valley some outstanding games."

California Girl Conquers Rugged Michigan Swim

MACKINAW CITY, Mich. (AP)—A pert, 23-year-old California girl claimed a first today after she swam an estimated 10 miles through strong currents in the Straits of Mackinac from Mackinac Islands to Mackinaw City in 7 hours, 28 minutes.

Mary Margaret Revell, of Huntington Park, complained of "the cold, the terrible cold," as she came ashore. Water temperatures ranged from 39 to 47 degrees.

The slim blonde encountered little difficulty during the first three-quarters of her swim but heavy currents toward the end of the journey actually carried her back one-half-mile at one point.

Miss Revell hopes to go on to the English Channel.

Sad Sam's Comeback Cheers Giants; He'll Be Kept Busy

A man named Sam is burning the airlines again from the pitchers box to home plate and a warm glow has spread through the San Francisco Giants clubhouse.

"It was wonderful to see him come back and pitch so well," Manager Alvin Dark of the Giants said yesterday after Sam Jones had pitched them to a 7-3 conquest of the Philadelphia Phillies and back into third place. "He has the type of arm that apparently needs a lot of work and I intend to keep him working. I might start him Thursday at St. Louis."

Jones, appearing as a starter for the first time since June 13, struck out nine Phillies yesterday with his revived fast ball and held them to four singles until fading in the eighth. At that point he loaded the bases with none out by hitting two batters and walking another.

WIRY MAGICIAN

This was Stu Miller's cue to take over and the wiry magician assured Jones of his seventh win against five losses.

Billy O'Dell (4-3) was slated to open for the Giants today when they close out their home stand against Dallas Green (2-3) of the Phils.

San Francisco battered Pittsburgh, 8-3, Saturday as Mike McCormick went the distance. Yesterday's performance gave the Giants four wins in their last five games and a record of 4-6 during the 11-game run at Candlestick Park.

Willie Mays grabbed the lead in the National League home run race by clubbing his 25th and 26th yesterday while Matty Alou undid a three-run homer to break the game open in the fifth inning.

Hub Softballers Dump Soldiers In Doubleheader

After their 7-0 loss to the powerful Sebastopol Comets Friday night, Sohner Tree Service of San Anselmo rebounded yesterday for 6-4 and 7-5 victories over Two Rock Army Base in a softball doubleheader played in Petaluma.

Jay Leatherwood's hurling and the clutch hitting of Nolan Wilson, Bill Haymart and Ed Schulze highlighted Sohner's twin triumphs over Two Rock.

Sohner's tallied twice in the first, once in the fourth, and then took the lead on Wilson's two-run homer in the fifth. The Treemen added an insurance run in the sixth.

As was the case in the first game, the Hub nine had to come from behind to gain the victory in the nightcap. A tremendous two-run homer by Haymart tied the score at 5-5 in the fifth and Schulze's two-run double in the seventh gave the Treemen the win and the two-game sweep.

Art Donati with a double and three singles was the leading Sohner hitter. Wilson and Earl Beyer each had two hits for the winners.

Mays lined his first blast of the afternoon over the left field fence against loser Jim Owens to tie the score at 1-1 in the second inning then bopped one some 400 feet through a gale over the left centerfield barrier in the seventh. This came on a pitch by Frank Sullivan, who had relieved Owens (1-3) in the fifth.

Alou unloaded his fourth homer of the campaign after Owens had given up walks to Joe Amalfitano and Harvey Kuenn. There were two out at the time, Jose Pagan having tripled then getting thrown out at home trying to score on Jones' outfield fly.

After Alou's belt, Mays singled, went to third on a double by Orlando Cepeda and Sullivan took over for Owens. Davenport greeted the six-foot, six-inch right hander with a two-run double.

The Phils had taken a 1-0 lead in the second inning. They tallied twice more in the eighth after Miller had relieved Jones. Johnny Callison's infield out brought across one runner and Don Demeter singled in the other.

Miller registered three strike outs in the two innings he worked. The Giants massaged the Phil pitching for 12 hits, seven of them for extra bases.

Low Cubs Continue To Humiliate Cincinnati

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati can handle the Dodgers, Giants and Braves but those Chicago Cubs give them fits. The Cubs did it again yesterday, beating the Reds for the 10th time in 16 games, and slicing Cincinnati's National League lead to five games over Los Angeles.

The Reds' main worry is George Altman. The Cub outfielder became the league's player of the month for June largely through a nine-hit series against Cincinnati. He is well on his way to repeating in July with Cincy pitching providing the impetus.

Altman, hitting .382 against Cincinnati with six of his 16 homers against the league leaders, beat them yesterday 4-2 with a tie-breaking homer in the sixth inning. Bob Anderson's no-hit pitching for 3½ innings saved a fifth victory for Dick Ellsworth at the expense of rookie Ken Hunt.

Los Angeles gained a full game on the Reds, but the Dodgers did it the hard way, blowing an early lead and finally beating Pittsburgh 12-11 on Johnny Roseboro's 10th-inning triple. Roseboro's nine-inning homer had helped the Dodgers tie it up despite five home runs by the Pirates. Bill Mazeroski hit two and Dick Stuart, Roberto Clemente and Don Hoak each hit one.

San Francisco, making a belated move since the All-Star break, thumped the Phillies 7-3 with two homers by Willie Mays and one by Matty Alou. Sam Jones, making his first

Drake Star Voted MVP In North Cal All-Star Game

Jerry Ard, star of Sir Francis Drake High School's baseball varsity this season, covered himself with glory yesterday and won a trip to New York to play in the annual sandlot classic game in August.

Ard, playing third base, displayed fine glove work and solid hitting to lead the Northern California All-Stars to an 8-3 victory over San Francisco in the San Francisco Examiner Baseball School's all-star game.

Ard and pitcher Chuck Midland of Mt. Diablo High School were voted the game's most valuable players and were awarded the trip to New York. They will play for the United States All-Stars against a New York team at Yankee Stadium Aug. 26.

Ard was one of three Marin County standouts who turned in outstanding performances in yesterday's game before an estimated 6,000 fans at San Francisco's Big Rec diamond. The others were Norman Kreuter, outfielder from Tamalpais High, and Vince Pallavicini, a teammate of Ard's at Drake. Kreuter collected two hits in three at-bats and scored a run while Pallavicini, also an outfielder, hit once in three tries and also scored a run. Two great defensive plays around second base "robbed" Pallavicini of a perfect day at bat. He was a strong candidate for the trip to New York and probably would have gone had his line smashes gone through for hits.

Ard got the nod from the judges for his perfect fielding at the hot corner, igniting a double play, and two hits.

In all Marinites got five of Northern California's 10 hits. One of Kreuter's hits started a six-run rally that shelled San Francisco's heralded Frank Bertaina from the mound in the second inning.

Palmer Wants PGA Title Now More Than Ever

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer, back home again after fighting off rain, wind and a cantankerous course to capture the British Open golf championship, says he's determined to win the National PGA title in Chicago later this month.

"I want to win it more than ever now," Palmer said during a brief stopover Sunday en route to his home in Latrobe, Pa. "It's the only major one I haven't won, you know."

The 31-year-old ace of American golfers won his first British Open in his second try — firing rounds of 69 and 72 on the 36-hole windup at Birkdale, England, Saturday for a winning 72-hole total of 284. He won by a stroke from Dai Rees of Wales after having trailed Australia's Kel Nagle by a stroke in the 1960 championship — his first attempt.

COMPLETE CYCLE
Since Palmer already has won the U.S. Open — in 1960 — and the Masters — in 1958 and 1960, the PGA championship is the one major title he needs to complete the cycle.

The PGA is the next tournament for Arnie and he said he'll spend a full week getting ready for its start, July 27, at Chicago's Olympic Fields County Club.

Arriving at Idlewild Airport, Palmer said the British Open title "was one of the hardest championships I ever won — boy, it was rough."

He said of the Birkdale course: "talk about narrow fairways and scrub — you just hit and hope."

And as for weather, which for a time threatened to cancel the tournament: "It was continually the roughest I have ever seen."

American star will try to win the PGA championship, the only major title that has eluded him. (AP Wirephoto)

Third regatta of the Small Yacht Racing Assn. yesterday drew 76 boats of the various classes to the starting line, held in the waters off Richmond.

A good battle developed in the 14 boat Mercury fleet with Bill Borgen, Richmond, emerging on top with Pete Sutter, Sausalito, second and Dick Hart, also from Sausalito, getting in for third place honors.

Electronic 'Paul Revere' Rides Over U.S. In Seconds

By JOHN PELLETREAU
CHICAGO (UPI)—On that famous April 18 night in 1775, it took Paul Revere hours to sound the "British-are-coming" alarm over a few miles of Massachusetts countryside.

Today, with survival hanging on split-second missile warning, an "electronic Paul Revere" can gallop around the entire United States in 90 seconds or less. This new warning system, tested for the first time on May 14 and still being checked out weekly, is roughly 20 times faster than the system instituted in 1945 when bombers were the chief worry.

Symbol of this new electronic minuteman is a fire-engine red machine located in the national broadcast news headquarters of United Press International in Chicago. It and a twin machine in Associated Press headquarters in New York are keys to the nationwide civil defense conelrad system under the North American Air Defense Command. Controlled by officials at Ent Air Force Base, Colorado Springs, Colo., the "red machine" can link the 4,500 radio and television stations serviced by press association newswires in a matter of seconds.

This complex teleprinter, utilizing 250,000 miles of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. circuits, could save countless American lives according to NORAD and Federal Communications Commission officials. It also would be invaluable in keeping the nation informed and organized if enemy missiles or bombers pierced the defense shield.

In event of a real warning, the red machine would come to life after ENT Air Force Base sent the word C-O-N-E-L-R-A-D over it. An alarm would go off. Lights would flash. The letters of that word would trigger devices that combine press association newswires and join them with the Civil Defense alert system.

Senor Ambassador Can Speak Their Language

By JACK RUTLEDGE
SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The ambassador seems to be proving the point.

The point is President Kennedy's theory that U. S. relations in Latin America could be improved by naming Spanish-speaking ambassadors of Latin descent to posts south of the border.

The ambassador is Raymond L. Telles, former mayor of El Paso, Tex., America's youngest ambassador at 45, and the first one named under the Kennedy policy. He is looked on as a sort of diplomatic guinea pig.

MGST POPULAR

In the few brief weeks he has been here, Telles has made himself the most popular ambassador the United States has ever sent to Costa Rica. His charm, willingness to mix, ability to speak fluent Spanish, and obviously Latin ancestry have won grudging recognition even from Communist students.

On this, the press, Costa Ricans, and American residents all agree.

"He has the press of Costa Rica in his pocket," said an official of the newspaper "Prensa Libre."

LAUDED BY PRESS

And in an article, the newspaper La Republica said: "He has all the characteristics of our Latin American race and the virtues and admirable qualities of the North American people."

The affection for Telles is in contrast to the skepticism when he arrived in May. What has he done?

Telles wasted no time in identifying himself with all walks of life. During his first week he attended an important soccer game between Costa Rica and Honduras. He gave the "kick of honor" to start the game and received an ovation. Costa Rica won 2-1, which helped the atmosphere when he awarded a trophy to the victors.

LITTLE LEAGUE HELPS

He attended Little League baseball games, entered the social life with vim, made friends with top officials, was available to press, mingled with the lower class.

A Catholic, he attended mass on his first Sunday in Costa Rica, holding his rosary, standing among barefooted campesinos because the pews were crowded. The news spread like wildfire.

The most active communists in Costa Rica (which has little trouble with communists) are students of the law school of the national university. Telles visited the school, talked to professors and scholars. He was such a hit the students invited him to be guest of honor at their annual dance.

He even linked himself with national tragedy. A Lacsa airplane crashed, killing two pilots. Telles attended the funeral mass.

PICTURE IN PAPERS

The ambassador toured the small republic, seeing what makes the Ticos—as they are called—tick. His picture is in the newspapers almost daily.

And under it all is an honest sincerity which even the embassy staff reacts to. "The best boss in the world," was the way one staff member described him. "I don't know how he can find time, but he takes a real and personal interest in the staff and their problems."

"Many of your ambassadors do not mingle with the people enough," said a Costa Rican officer. "It is one failure of your diplomacy. But your Ambassador Telles certainly does. He's known, too, as the gringo who can speak excellent Spanish. It helps."

NATIVE TEXAN

Telles was born Sept. 5, 1915, in El Paso, and was graduated from Texas schools. He was an accountant until he enlisted in the Army in 1941. Commissioned in the Air Force, he became chief of the Air Force lend lease program to Latin countries.

He served in Mexico on a special mission to the Mexican Air Force from 1945 to 1947, was an aide to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower when he visited Mexico City as U. S. chief of staff, and later accompanied President Harry Truman to Mexico on his 1947 visit.

Telles served in Korea, where he received the Bronze Star. Then he entered politics, and was elected mayor of El Paso in a bitter election in 1957. He was the only Texas mayor invited to the inauguration of Mexican President Lopez Mateos.

Telles was re-elected mayor in 1959 without opposition.

Modern Art Goes Underfoot With New Accent Rugs

Don't let modern art floor you. Put it on the floor instead. Not since Byzantine royalty laid their exquisite tapestries on the cold floor has there been such a wealth of art in rugs.

Gone are the days when a rug was a drab piece of fabric, serving a utilitarian purpose until you could "afford better." Today's rug accents, with a boldness and daring that creates conversation and commands attention. Such works of art for your floor are within the price range of the average homemaker, thanks to technical development in the tufted textile field.

The wide divergence in flooring materials—including wider use of stone and ceramic tile and the almost universal use of vinyl, especially in today's popular family room—has greatly increased the desire for "accent" rugs to relieve bareness.

Sale Time Again In Stinson

By PATRICIA ZINN
It's rummage sale time again in Stinson Beach!

From now until Saturday when the doors to the Stinson Beach Community Center swing open for the two day sale, a group of hard working women led by Mrs. Alvin A. Eustice will transfer an assortment of articles from a rented room in the Fire House to the Center.

The annual two day rummage sale climaxes a year's work on the part of members of the Stinson Beach Allied Arts and other member organizations of the Stinson Beach Community Center, Inc.

COMMUNITY EFFORT
The sale is itself a community effort. By renting an unused portion of the Fire House, it has been possible to accept and store salable items, and all year long anyone housecleaning, chimney sweeping or the like in Stinson Beach has had a place to dispose of cast offs of every description.

Judging from the amount and the range of assortment, all the folks in Stinson Beach have contributed something to the sale.

All the way from soup to nuts best describes the items which include a few pieces of pressed glass, a very old upright piano, old fashioned washstand, dining table "cut down" and clothing and shoes for the entire family.

TREASURE?
After the last item has been transferred to the Community Center comes the fun of unpacking the cartons and there is always the chance that a treasure will emerge.

Proceeds from the rummage sale are divided between the sponsor, Stinson Beach Allied Arts, and Stinson Beach Community Center, Inc. Funds held in Allied Arts treasury eventually find their way into Community Center, since the club makes many contributions for the upkeep and maintenance of the center. The most recent was the purchase of a number of articles for the kitchen.

FOODS TOO
There will be a sale of home cooked foods on the Community Center porch on Saturday morning arranged by the women of the Community Church, who will also serve a lunch on that day and Sunday.

Heading the departments are Mrs. Geneva Reinhardt, women's clothing; Mrs. C. F. Johnson, shoes and accessories; Mrs. Carl Engstrom, china and bric-a-brac; Mrs. Otto Rasmussen, kitchenware; Mrs. Edward Leslie, draperies; Mrs. Walter Marble, books; Mrs. William Sherfey, plants.

Husbands and members of the Volunteer Fire Dept. have been recruited to sell furniture, which will be shown in the Fire House.

Items not sold by these good community workers are offered to the neighboring town of Bolinas for its big sale and thence to the Salvation Army or Goodwill Industries.

No need to add salt to a cookie recipe when salted peanuts are used.

STRIKING A mighty chord on this old upright piano which will be sold is Miss Ruth Miller. The two day sale climaxes a year's work on the part of members of the Stinson Beach Allied Arts and other member organizations of the Stinson Beach Community Center.

end up doing it by hand. Is this usually necessary? Your column is very helpful, giving me courage to tackle things I've never done before." Mrs. N.L.P. Dear Mrs. N.L.P.:

I'm afraid from the tone of your letter that there is some misunderstanding of the word "under-stitching." This word got its name because it is actually "under" the right side of your garment. It is quite important because it will keep the facing edges from slipping out and showing from the right side of your garment.

Under-stitching can be done on almost any faced edge. If the edge is curved, you must clip the curve first.

Next, bring all the seams toward the facing, and machine stitch on the right side of the facing, very close to the seam line. You will not be able to get up too close to any corner, so don't pull your garment out of shape trying to.

"When you told us how to make a 'slot seam' you said to close the seam first, press open, and place a strip of fabric under this, etc. Wouldn't this be pulled apart a little bit to allow the contrasting material to show? Or am I just stupid?" Mrs. E. E. R. Dear Mrs. E.E.R.:

In most instances, a "slot-seam" is one of those subtle touches that are a sign of fine workmanship and design but do not hit you in the face. You would be surprised how much the contrasting color will show when you move around. If for some reason you would want more to show, don't close the seam first. In this case you would turn back the seam allowance on both sections separately and baste them to the contrasting fabric, leaving the desired space between them.

"I plan to make some dresses which have full swing skirts, not the gathered kind. The problem is that after these kind of dresses have been washed several times, the hems become badly uneven.

Why is this? How can I keep the hemline even at all times after washing many times?" Mrs. H.A.

Dear Mrs. H.A.: The kind of skirt you refer to is a bias cut skirt.

1. Hang the skirt on a hanger for a few days before having the length marked.

2. When you are pressing this kind of skirt, you must try to press with the grain, as indicated by the arrows on illustration. You can press with the cross-grain or lengthwise grain, but not up and down on the bias.

Correct pressing can help a great deal in keeping the hemline even. However, with a bias cut skirt, the natural pull or stretch of the fabric will always pose a little problem.

Helpful Guide

If you are planning to paint your walls blue or green, the color of the wood of your furniture can be a helpful guide as to what shade to use. Turquoise, periwinkle blues, and greens that contain a lot of yellow are ideal backgrounds for furniture finished in mahogany, walnut or one of the fruit woods. Furniture finished in greyed tones looks better in rooms with walls painted in clear blues. Pale woods, favored in modern furniture, are enhanced against the deeper shades of green or blue.

Skull And Crossbones Urged For All Poison By Consumers League

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Consumers League suggested the government make manufacturers put skull and crossbones warnings on poisonous household goods, along with advice on what to do until the doctor comes.

Vera Mayer, a Consumers League representative, said in testimony prepared for a Food and Drug Administration hearing that "consumers who purchase the hazardous substances... have the right to know exactly what they are buying, how it is used, and what to do in case of misuse and accident."

The hearings are on proposed regulations to carry out a labeling law passed by Congress last year. Numerous manufacturers of household commodities, from paint to detergents, protested yesterday that the FDA's proposed labeling requirements are impractical and unfair.

An estimated 2.5 million chemical products used in the home have been classified as poisonous or flammable under the FDA proposals and would require labels as such.

Mrs. Mayer said that about 600,000 children swallow household goods every year, and about 500 of them die.

"We strongly urge that reasons of public health, safety and information far outweigh in importance any notions of convenient advertising" and arty packaging, she said.

She said the regulations might go further and require the use of "conventional danger symbols such as the skull and crossbones" on poisonous substances, and "perhaps a flame could be used for inflammable substances."

But Gen. John E. Hull (Ret.), representing the Manufacturing Chemists Assn., said yesterday that would be like the boy who cried "Wolf!" so often no one believed him when one actually came. He said that housewives would eventually have a "complete disregard for such precautionary information."

THE FORMER Patricia Ann Gossett, a San Rafael teacher, became the bride of Shain Berry Haug of Long Beach at the Presidio Chapel of Our Lady in San Francisco July 1. They took a wedding trip to Carmel. The bride is a Michigan State University graduate and her husband attended St. Louis University in Missouri. (Milton Mann photo)

All In Knowing How To Live Remarks Mae West, Who's 70

By JOYCE SCHULLER

CHICAGO (UPI) — When it comes to sex on stage, Mae West is still something at 70.

It's 33 years since she shimmied on stage in "Diamond Lil," and murmured her classic invitation, "Come up 'n see me sometime."

But she still has the equipment that put the bosom on the map. Blonde, brassy and breathless, she's back on stage in Chicago after a 10-year absence in a play called "Sextette." The title is reminiscent of the first Broadway play she wrote and starred in, "Sex."

In "Sextette," as in all her earlier displays, the 70-year-old Miss West comes through with what essayist Harry Golden has described as "old fashioned sex."

"There's a wholesomeness about Mae West's sex," he wrote in his book, "For 2 Cents Plain." "It suggests the loud laughter at a Verein picnic in Schutzen park, or on the annual excursion of the Steamfitters' Union, Local No. 11."

Mae West never considered playing anything but a sexy-looking female, even at 70, "because that's not so old," she said.

"They say the life span should be 140 years," she added in a dressing room interview. The trick to not showing your age is "all in knowing how to live and what to do," she said.

Onstage, she still looks something like Jayne Mansfield, or, as Mae puts it: "Jayne looks like me. I always looked like that."

Mae takes it as a compliment that a whole generation of starlets has copied her style of exuding sex on stage.

"But they don't really know how to imitate me," she said. "They don't see the comic side of sex." She's always poked fun at sex by playing it bigger than life.

"That's why even plain women like me," she said. "Women have always been among my fans."

She prefers not to discuss the trade secrets for keeping in condition at 70. But it is said that Mae eats a big meal only once a week, relaxes head down and feet up, and occasionally stands on her head.

HERE FROM Denmark, Mrs. Lillemar Orm Hansen, right, gets a tour of Girl Scout headquarters in San Rafael and an explanation of Marin Council workings from her hostess, Mrs. F. G. Klarkowski of Santa Venetia, at whose home the Danish Girl Guide official has been a guest for two weeks. Mrs. Hansen wears her navy blue uniform as chairman of Denmark's Brownie organization. The two met in 1959 when Mrs. Klarkowski represented the United States at the International Camp in Denmark. Mrs. Hansen was then her hostess. (Independent-Journal photo)

America's Vastness Impresses Visiting Danish Scout Official

By BARBARA HOSMER

A distinguished visitor from Denmark has been making Marin her headquarters on a two week "vacation" from her official mission to the United States—to observe Monterey and Milwaukee, Wis. Girl Scout Councils.

The visitor is Mrs. Lillemar Orm Hansen, chairman of Denmark's Brownie organization of Det Danske Pigespejarkorps, or Girl Guides. Her hostess in Marin has been Mrs. F. G. Klarkowski of Santa Venetia, whom she met two years ago at the International Camp of Girl Guide and Scout leaders in Denmark. Mrs. Hansen, then international commissioner of Denmark Girl Guides, was hostess to Mrs. Klarkowski, one of two Girl Scout leaders from America, and to 39 leaders from 12 countries.

Now she is here in a five months visit as an official observer sponsored by the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund, which enables foreign Scout officials to observe methods in the United States and sends American leaders abroad. She has finished six week visits to the Milwaukee and Monterey councils and left yesterday to begin two training sessions this week at the Camp Edith Macy Girl Scout leader training center in Pleasantville, N. Y.

What will be the main impression of America and its Girl Scouting program that she will take back to Denmark? Probably the vastness. Her hostess pointed out that the United States has more Girl Scouts and Brownies than Denmark has total population.

During her visit in Marin Mrs. Hansen toured Scout headquarters in San Rafael, climbed Mt. Tamalpais, and met many of the girls and local leaders and professional staff. Her hostess entertained at an informal coffee at her Santa Venetia home and the visitor has been shuttled to Bay Area points of interest by Marin leaders who volunteered as soon as they heard the distinguished guest had arrived. Friday night another group gathered for a farewell supper and an informal "bull session" at the Northridge home of the neighborhood chairman. Under discussion were differences of the Girl Guide and U. S. Scout programs and possible changes and enlargements of them. This year the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. are instituting an expanded and revised Scouting program that has been in the planning stage for two years.

Danish Girl Guides begin their program when they become eight years old, a year later than in America, and they continue through their mid-twenties. Mrs. Hansen's 22-year-old daughter is a Danish Girl Guide and her 24-year-old son is a Scout. Mrs. Klarkowski explained that there Brownies camp right along with the older girls and that patrol leaders, who are 16, assume most of responsibility during camp sessions.

"In Europe leaders don't tag alongside the girls constantly as they do here. They are more of advisers." The girls take care of themselves, the older helping the young, and they take it much more seriously, she said.

Mrs. Hansen will return in August to her home, Klampenborg, a Copenhagen suburb, where she lives with her husband, Col. Orm Hansen, chief of Air Material of the Danish Air Force. Their daughter is an occupational therapist and sons are an advertising executive and engineering student.

Florence Fashion Showings Open With White For Winter

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI)—Style experts were predicting a white winter as the high fashion previews for 1961-62 moved to this Renaissance city.

"Snowy white for the winter" was the first secret to emerge from the dressing rooms when designers opened Italy's big-league fashion shows over the weekend.

Rome staged three days of haute couture to open the new season, but the capital city has lost most of its influence to Florence. The white trend which appeared in Rome, however, was considered a forecast for the shows here.

Some of the most beautiful styles appearing in the Roman collections were all-white theater suits, cocktail dresses and evening gowns.

Lounging ensembles and sportswear also appeared in snowy-white, sometimes enlivened with single flashes of brilliant red.

Best of the Roman collections were by Renato Balestra and the Fontana Sisters. Balestra used his ascending V-line for effects of great elegance. The Fontanas created the inverted-mushroom, a style with all emphasis on the hips. It was a clever idea but difficult for most women to wear.

Other style notes from Rome: Skirts flared from the top of the hips.

Long hair piled high on the head.

Identical costume bracelets worn on both wrists over long black suede gloves (with black cocktail dresses).

Muffs with suits and evening wear.

Ruffs of fur trimming practically everything.

Increasing use of soft leather for jumpers, suits and coats.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seamus O'Hanrahan of San Francisco, wore a full length gown of white organdy. Her sister Brigida was maid of honor and Barbara Rudy of Ross, the bride's cousin, was bridesmaid. They wore pink sheath dresses.

The bridegroom's father, Everardo Ruiz Ocampo of Guanajuato, Mexico, was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Tighe O'Hanrahan, and James Shepherd.

After the wedding a reception was given at the Ross home of the bride's grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Otto Weiss.

Janina attended Dominican Convent, Verde Valley School in Arizona and Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio.

Her husband, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruiz Ocampo, studied engineering at the University of Mexico. After a Carmel wedding trip the couple will live in San Francisco.

Little Creepers Can Be Fun But They Need Your Guidance

Have you a little creeper in your home? Creepers are fun. They've the whole wide world to explore and they move fast and learn fast. It is hard to keep up with them.

Do you have a regular time for your little one to crawl around the house? He needs it. Are you with him every minute of that time? Remember, your creeper has no judgment. He doesn't know what is dangerous so he needs very close supervision.

Have you accident-proofed your house? Start in the middle of your living room. Look slowly and carefully at each part of it. Spot everything which conceivably could be dangerous. Then remove it or change it. Check each room the same way. Don't forget the stairway and the hall. By the time you're finished all the breakables should be up out of reach. Electrical sockets should be covered. You can buy safety plugs for them. All needles, pins, scissors should be put away. Get the idea?

Think ahead a few months. Soon your creeper will be a climber. Then he'll get into everything, so prepare for his forays. Fix your medicine cupboard so he can't open it. Secure your match cupboard, tool chest, knife drawer and so on.

Teaching safety also is important. Be consistent with your little one. Keep rules to a minimum. Help him to understand them. For example, every time your creeper gets too close to the kitchen stove tell him "No, no," and move him back. If he starts to climb it, spank him. Don't ignore any risky activity. Some babies learn safety lessons quickly, some slowly. But they all must learn.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

Orthodox Lead Tells Too Much —Try Being A Modern Player

Your best play sometimes depends on the type of opening lead favored by the opponents.

West North East South
Pass	Pass	1 ♥	Double
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	3 NT
All Pass
Opening lead — ♥ 2

Play the South hand against the opening lead of the deuce of hearts. East wins the first trick with the ace of hearts and returns the six of hearts. Do you finesse the jack or do you put up the king of hearts? If you're playing against old-fashioned opponents, you'll put up the king of hearts at the second trick. This play assures the contract if West holds the queen of hearts.

Your next step is to knock out the ace of clubs. East can lead a heart to the queen, but the suit is blocked. You can eventually take the diamond finesse to get your ninth trick, winning three spades, three clubs, one heart and two diamonds.

MAY NEED FINESSE: Now suppose that West holds 9-3-2 of hearts instead of Q-3-2. You must finesse the jack at the second trick to make the contract.

Now do you know when to finesse the jack of hearts and when to put up the king? The answer depends on the type of opening lead favored by the opponents.

Years ago, all the best players would lead the highest heart from such a holding as 9-3-2. They would lead the deuce from four cards or from three to the jack or better. This style made it easy for declarer. South could safely finesse the jack if West opened such a card as the deuce or trey.

Today, most of the best players open the lowest card from any three cards of partner's suit. There are arguments for and against this theory, but the moderns have all the edge in this type of hand. When West opens the deuce, South has no clue to the correct play. The opening lead doesn't tell South which opponent has the queen of hearts.

DAILY QUESTION: Partner opens with 2 NT, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ Q 8 3
♥ 7 5
♦ 9 6 4 2
♣ 10 9 8 5

What do you say?

Answer: Pass. Partner's bid is highly invitational, but not forcing. You need about another queen to respond.

Plumber Suffers Electrical Shock

A Sausalito plumber working on a new home at the end of Vallejo Way in Terra Linda was thrown into collapse and severe shock late Thursday when he accidentally grabbed the prongs of a plug on a cord carrying 220 volts of electricity.

The injured man, Walter Edwin Wright, 25, of 305 Third Street, Sausalito, unplugged a drop cord from a wall outlet, reported his superior, Joseph Sarrubi, of Oakland.

Wright was treated at San Rafael General Hospital.

Locksmiths Pick Out A Good Day For Meetings—Record Attendance

By RANDALL GOULD

A near-record 72 professional locksmiths of northern California including several of the most skilled in the United States gathered in San Rafael at 2 p.m. yesterday as guests of Karl Guenther, secretary of their regional group.

They inspected the latest in machinery of their craft and discussed advances in an art they feel should be known to the public by something better than the old adage about how "Love laughs at locksmiths."

Even in peaceful Marin County, according to Guenther, whose shop at 1323 Third Street was scene of the gathering, residents will do well to re-assess the security of their homes—for the art of burglary is showing progress too.

Locks are no laughing matter to members of the California Locksmiths Assn., Guenther says. Most of those in his group have the rating of "master locksmith" and have been in the trade throughout their lifetimes—in one instance for 57 years.

"We're always learning because both locks and burglars keep getting better," Guenther declared as he produced an impressive-looking door lock.

"This spring latch type looks good and would be picked by the average buyer. But many a Marin home with a lock like this on the door has been entered by use of nothing more complicated than a bread knife. Just slide such an object in from the outside and as it hits the bevel edge the lock slips back.

"Choose a 'dead lock' instead, one with a flat surface. Or you can buy a double bolt where the first section slides back, when the door shuts, and holds the other immovably locked."

Marin County not only has many vulnerable spring latches, Guenther said, but a fair number of sturdy-looking lock ensembles are made of "pot metal" which is actually frail.

"Three good jerks at the handle can break it without use of any sort of tool," said Guenther. "The answer is to use rolled steel instead."

"The burglars have developed one new tool lately which is used instead of a key—it's a long pick which is inserted into the key-hole to break a vital part of the lock mechanism. But the locksmiths have countered this by developing an inner plate which will check the tool, and which can be inserted into existing locks."

Guenther warned that unskilled clerks in hardware stores or "five-and-tens" are not likely to make satisfactory replacements for your keys since they know little about the craft and ordinary keycutters aren't precision instruments.

On display for tomorrow's meeting will be a newly developed machine of great precision which makes a new key from a model which need not be actually inserted into the machine, but from which an exact copy is cut.

Guenther said all good locksmiths are glad to give free advice and let the customer buy where he wishes, since they figure they'll profit in the long run by educating the public about locks.

He contributed a number of random tips for the average citizen, especially advising that keys be identified so that they will be recognized only by the owner. Many burglaries have been a result of loss of keys which were lost with a name and address attached.

Similarly Guenther takes a dim view of the tiny license plates sent by a national charity for attachment to motor keys.

Notes to tell callers where house keys may be found are poor burglary insurance, Guenther feels. If a key is lost he thinks it's a good idea to call a locksmith to install a new lock or have the cylinder reset to a new key with different bit-tings.

And when you go on holiday the best publicity policy, says Guenther, is not to advise the newspaper about it ahead of time—afterward will be safer, and besides, you'll have more to tell!

Board Eyes Roads

Trustees of the Sausalito school district will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the district office to discuss the perimeter roads at Bayside School and the Buena Vista subdivision development surrounding the school property.

"Dear Editor: I disagree . . ."

You'll never see these words in Izvestia or Pravda. Yet they're the most meaningful any newspaper can print.

They outweigh the news of astronauts. They're more important than news of international affairs—or of the Giants.

They say more about this country than all the books on freedom. They can be written by Republicans or Democrats, ditch diggers or bank presidents, old men or children . . . by anyone, on any subject, at any time.

And they are printed . . . free.

In the Independent-Journal, this forum for all shades of opinion is called, "What Our Readers Say." Some opinions challenge us for our stand on an issue; some agree with us; others offer new approaches to a problem.

More important than any view, of course, (ours included) is the right to express it. This is why your "Letter to the Editor" is a vital document.

And it is why we at the I-J regard these public columns as something more than a newspaper tradition. Through black type and white paper they build the strongest barricade around the right to free and personal expression.

Treasury To Borrow In Big Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury is going to borrow in a big way—16 billion dollars—to help finance this year's expected budget deficit of at least four billion dollars.

In the most massive borrowing since 1959, the Treasury will dangle bait that it expects almost all interested sectors of the money market will find attractive.

This week, the department will refinance 12.5 billion dollars of old debts and borrow 3.5 billion dollars in new cash. The new cash will be raised through an auction next Thursday of tax anticipation bills maturing next March. Lenders will fix the interest rate on these by bidding for them at a discount.

Owners of 12.5 billion dollars of old securities maturing between Aug. 1 and Oct. 1 will be able to exchange them for any of three new issues—

A 3 3/4 per cent note maturing in November 1962, a 3 3/4 per cent note coming due in August 1964, and a bond maturing in May 1968. The bond will be offered at a discount to yield nearly 4 per cent.

Appraisal Appeals Deadline Changed

Final time for appeals against county assessor's appraisals has been changed to 5 p.m. July 21 instead of July 24 as a result of reconsideration of the problem of hearings by the board of equalization.

The supervisors decided last Tuesday to allow filing of appeals until 5 p.m. July 24 although that is the date hearings are supposed to end. It was argued that hearings could continue until all appeals had been dealt with.

But following adjournment it developed that the pressure of work might be too heavy under such circumstances. So Clerk George S. Jones was directed to change the filing date to the end of the week before the Monday on which hearings are supposed to conclude.

Sausalito Police Nab 2 Vandals

Two boys, one 12 from Sausalito and one 13 from San Anselmo were released to their parents by Sausalito police Friday after they were caught by Sgt. David Cooper at 7 a.m. cutting the top of a convertible at Bridgeway and Richardson Street in Sausalito.

Police said that the youngsters' parents would be asked to pay for the damage. Officers confiscated a five and one-half inch pearl handled stiletto from the San Anselmo boy. The car belongs to E. W. Engberg of 501 Bridgeway. Police said the boys didn't know why they cut the car top.

Soblen Awaits Sentence Aug. 7

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cancer-stricken Dr. Robert Soblen, convicted of wartime spying for Soviet Russia, was returned to federal detention yesterday to await sentencing Aug. 7.

Soblen, 60, was convicted in U.S. federal court Thursday on two counts of conspiracy to commit and transmit espionage for Soviet Russia.

Judge William D. Herlands yesterday remanded the ailing physician to a federal detention headquarters to await sentence, despite pleas by Soblen and his attorneys to free him on bail, or else put him in a hospital.

Water Supplies Measure Signed

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill appropriating $250,000 to plan projects to replenish underground water supplies was signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The measure by Sen. Richard J. Dolwig (R-Redwood City) and Assemblyman Carley Porter (D-Compton) says that the State Water Resources Department can initiate the plans or pass on the merit of plans submitted by local agencies.

Rocket Sets Off Fireworks Display

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (UPI)—The Civilian Space Agency launched Friday a rocket which touched off a series of explosions in the upper atmosphere like a Fourth of July rocket in a meteorological experiment.

The Nike-Cajon rocket carried a 60-pound payload which included 12 special grenades. The grenades were ejected and detonated at intervals from 23 to 56 miles above the earth.

"Summertime... and the living is easy..."

Joey Bishop Hopes He's Out Of Clubs

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (U) — Word is that the "Joey Bishop Show" is the hot television entry for the fall season—but deadpan Joey isn't moving his family out here yet.

Said Bishop: "I'm renting a house in Beverly Hills for the summer but I still keep the one in Englewood, N.J. My boy, Larry, is out here for the summer, but I'll start him in school back home again in the fall."

"We're making 26 films with options for 13 more. If the series goes, I'll come out here for good—not before."

Joey, a nightclub comic, does not care if he ever plays a saloon again.

"I'd like some of this Hollywood home life for a change. I told Jack Entratter I might play the Sands for him in Las Vegas once in a while—but no more of the tour."

That is, of course, if the TV series hits. If not, Joey says he will gladly go back to the clubs.

Currently, he is appearing with Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr. and Peter Lawford in "Soldiers 3."

The five of them also work together as a night club act—the Summit Conference. Amazingly, it is Bishop who is the catalyst for the group of performing giants.

His jokes, delivered with that serious look, hold the act together. Once in Las Vegas when the then presidential candidate, John F. Kennedy, was in the audience, Bishop quipped:

"I know, senator, that if you get elected, Sinatra will ask to be ambassador to Italy and Sammy Davis ambassador to Israel. But me, I'm not asking for anything like that."

A pause—and then that serious delivery:

"I'd just appreciate it if you could fix it so I wouldn't get drafted again."

Kennedy roared.

FAULKNER DRAMA—Richard Boone and Kim Stanley co-star as a poor southern couple in William Faulkner's "Tomorrow," the "Playhouse 90" drama that will be given a repeat performance tomorrow night at 9:30 o'clock over KPIX-TV (Channel 5).

CHECKING the CHANNELS

With HAL CASE

To Escape Repeats On Television, Just Turn Your Dial To Channel 9

With the commercial channels all clogged up with repeats and second-rate replacement shows, there's all the more reason to turn your dial to non-commercial KQED these evenings. There's no summer let-down in channel 9's programming.

For instance, this evening at 9:30 KQED will offer you a sneak preview of the Actor's Workshop production for television of Ben Jonson's comedy, "The Alchemist." The play is to be released nationally on TV later this year as part of the National Educational Television "The Festival of Arts" series.

Anyway who has ever seen an Actor's Workshop production is well aware of the high standards set and met by this talented San Francisco company. And the presence of the likes of Michael O'Sullivan and Robert Symonds in the cast offers further assurance that tonight's play will be nothing less than topflight.

LAST MONDAY a new musical series, "Glenn Miller Time," at 10 p.m. on KPIX, made a rather inauspicious debut. Tonight another musical show begins a summer-time run. And whatever its other merits, you can bet that "The Spike Jones Show," 9 p.m. on KPIX, will be loud and lively.

Spike's favorite songstress, his wife Helen Grayco, and guests Bill Dana and Jack Jones will be on the bill this evening. One promising development: The presence of Perry Cross, responsible in the past for some of the Dinah Shore, Ernie Kovacs and Jack Paar shows, as the producer.

As for the Miller show an hour later, two numbers made into big hit recordings by the late maestro, "Chattanooga Choo Choo" and "Little Brown Jug," are on the program for this evening.

TWO NEW educational shows were launched on KPIX this morning and will be seen daily, Mondays through Fridays, for the next several weeks.

From 6:30 to 6:45 a.m. Channel 5 now carries a course on "Basic Science in the Space Age," taught by Prof. Jonathan Karas, science director of station WBZ-TV in Boston and a visiting professor at Lowell Tech. It analyzes developments in space research and travel.

And from 6:45 until 7 a.m., KPIX offers "The Care and Feeding of Money," a 10-week course on stock market investing, also produced by WBZ. It is conducted by Prof. Van Dyke Burhans Jr. of Boston University, and that school and the New York Stock Exchange co-operated in the producing of the series.

ALL THREE Bay Area network stations plan to be on the air bright and early tomorrow morning to cover the second U.S. space flight, if that event takes place as tentatively scheduled.

Both KRON and KGO have announced they will be on the air at 5 a.m. KPIX said its tentative plans call for its coverage to begin at 3:50 a.m.

KRON has scheduled a review of the flight for the evening from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., and KGO plans a similar show at 11 p.m.

But, of course, if weather or other factors force postponement of the flight, all related TV programming is off.

AS FOR tomorrow night: "Focus on America," KGO at 7 o'clock, will feature a documentary produced by station WBKB of Chicago on breast cancer research at the University of Chicago.

"Concert Hall," KPIX at 7:30 p.m., will offer pianist Miklos Schwalb in a program including Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" and Liszt's "Spanish Rhapsody."

"Open End," KQED at 8:30, will be devoted to a discussion by political figures and journalists of U.S. foreign policy in troubled areas such as Cuba and Laos.

"Great Music," KTVU at 9 o'clock, will see Walter Hendel conducting the Chicago Symphony Orchestra in a program including Beethoven's overture to "The Creatures of Prometheus."

"Playhouse 90," KPIX at 9:30, will repeat its adaptation of William Faulkner's "Tomorrow" in which we thought Richard Boone and Kim Stanley gave two of the finest portrayals of that entire series.

And finally, a "Purex Special" on problems of the single woman will be rebroadcast at 10 o'clock on KRON. Its first showing took place in the afternoon so that many working women were unable to see it.

ON RADIO, KPFA (94.1) on your FM dial, will begin a week-long series of live broadcasts from Carmel's 24th annual Bach Festival this evening. Tonight: A complete performance of "The Art of the Fugue."

OUTSIDE CONTRACT—Robert Bowman, vice president of Bowman Electric of Corte Madera, points out one phase of electrical maintenance to Charles La Fever of Fairfield in the Wherry Housing Project at Travis Air Force Base. The Marin firm is in the sixth month of a 12-month installation job at the Air Force site.

Tax Delinquency Rate In Marin On Increase

Marin County property-owners' delinquency is showing. Overall delinquency on secured taxes for the 1960-61 fiscal year is at a rate of 3.69 per cent, according to a report just compiled by Auditor-Controller L. A. deLisle.

This is about one-half a per cent higher than that of the previous year.

Breakdown by Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell disclosed that

Soil Board Plans Silting Study

Marin County Soil Conservation District will have studies made of Tomales Bay to see what is causing the gradual filling of the bay with mud, district directors have decided.

The district received $1,000 to finance the program, of which $500 came from the Marin County Board of Supervisors and $500 from the State Soil Conservation Board.

Waldo F. Giacomini, president of the District, said an engineering firm will be hired to survey the silting problem and make recommendations.

Of the $18,436,601 secured by taxes levied for the year and applicable to the county, school districts, special districts and cities except Fairfax and San Anselmo, $680,362 was uncollected as of April 10.

Belvedere, recently written up by Holiday magazine as a particularly plush community, had the worst delinquency with a rate of 4.40 per cent.

Marin's newest city of Novato up north made the second worst showing with delinquency of 4.36 per cent, barely nosing out the southernmost city, Sausalito, with a rate of 4.33 per cent.

Ross proudly took the more favorable extreme with delinquency of only 1.82 per cent, which Mitchell said is a usual showing of the well-heeled inhabitants of this area.

But a surprise runner-up in this sound credit category was Larkspur, which made an exceptionally good showing with a moderate 1.50 per cent unpaid.

Unincorporated areas were just above the norm for the county, with delinquency of 3.77 per cent.

Other cities and their ratings were: San Rafael, 3.11 per cent; Mill Valley, 3.28, and Corte Madera, 2.22.

Civil Air Cadet Gets Command

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)
By HARRY CRAFT

Apartments At Saturation Point? Nowhere Near, Asserts Builder

Something on the increasing number of apartment houses and their relation to the economy and population of Marin County comes from John Farrar of Kaehler Development Co. that has been building about 50 units a year in East San Rafael (Harbour Place Apartments and others).

Says Farrar: "We're not concerned at all at this time about running into a period of vacancies of 40 and 50 per cent such as certain sections of the Peninsula have experienced, nor do we think apartments will disturb the natural 'home and garden' character of the county. Remember, we're behind the Peninsula in construction by several years

"Our own apartments, for example, are in the price range from $100 to $150 a month which definitely fill a housing need for young people just getting started. Young people want to move here but many of them can't afford to buy homes. Why keep them out? Some day they'll have the savings and earning capacity to purchase homes here or go someplace else. As an indication of the demand, our vacancy problem only runs about 5 per cent, certainly a long way from the "saturation point."

Kaehler Development Co., by the way, constructs both homes and apartment houses, operates and manages the latter. It has a payroll of around $15,000 a week; does a business of about two and one-half million dollars a year.

Recent projects in progress or in the planning stage are an office building on Fourth Street, San Rafael, another apartment house development on the Tiburon peninsula, 150 more units in East San Rafael. Home developments are the Racquet Club Estates, San Rafael, and Forest Park, Novato.

IF IT SEEMS that most Marin business firms are engaged only in business in Marin, you have but to look around you to note the exceptions.

The obvious ones are organizations such as Fairchild Semiconductor Corp., Dumont Manufacturing Co., H. Koch and Sons, Kimball Manufacturing Corp., McGraw-Hill Book Co., E. D. Bullard Co., A. G. Schoonmaker Co. Maybe you're even aware of Hopfield Industrial Manufacturing Co. Shades, Inc., and some others who haven't been so widely publicized.

But did you know that Custom Builders of Marin has put up an office building and warehouses in San Francisco? Or that San Rafael Glass Co. has taken contracts in many parts of Northern California? Bowman Electric does likewise. So does C. D. Madsen, Inc. Apex ships fireplaces throughout the west. La Ville Food Products go all over the country.

AMBITIOUS August DeGrazia of San Rafael, who moved here last November from Pacifica, has recently incorporated his meat brokerage and jobbing business as Dee Meat, Inc., at one million dollars. He operates it from Oakland but picks up business in Marin and throughout the Bay Area.

It's a "boy makes good" story. DeGrazia started from scratch about three years ago with a sharp knife and a sharper knowledge of how to use it.

In Australia there are 13 sheep to every person.

Work Started At Playground

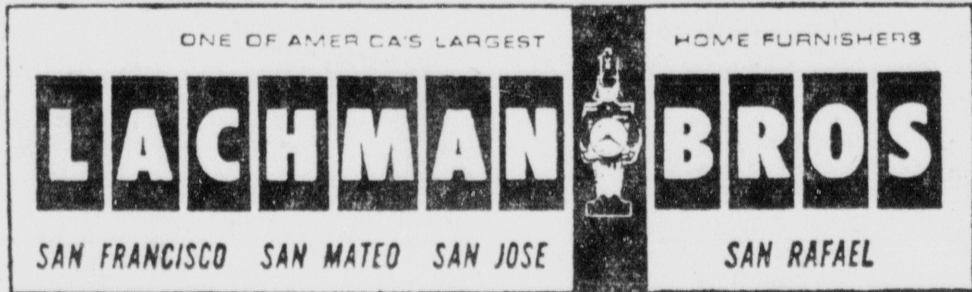

Playground equipment in the San Clemente School yard is being erected by the town of Corte Madera, by agreement with the Larkspur School District.

Under this agreement, the town will erect the playground equipment and do other work to make it a city park under the recreation commission.

Five pieces of equipment costing $716 are being installed by the town public works department. The park will cost $1,731 when completed with landscaping and fences, said Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow.

'Virtue Triumphs'

NEW YORK (UPI) — A recent meeting here of the Comics Magazine Assn. of America was told by Leonard Darwin, its executive secretary: "We've eliminated sex (in comics), we have eliminated crime. We still have a degree of violence because we can't keep it out of war stories and westerns. But virtue triumphs all the time."
